SPALDING'S ATHLETIC LIBRARY

Spalding's Athletic Library is admitted to be the leading library series of its kind published in the world. In fact, it has no imitators, let alone equals. It occupies a field that it has created for itself.

The Library was established in the year 1892, and it is an admitted fact by many authorities that Spalding's Athletic Library has accomplished a great deal in America for the advancement of amateur sport.

The millions that read the Library during the year will attest to its value. A glance at its index will disclose the remarkable field that it covers. It is immaterial what the pastime may be, you will find in Spalding's Athletic Library a reference to it, either in a book devoted exclusively to that particular game or in some of the books that cover many sports.

It has been the aim of the editors to make the books Official, and they are recognized as such, all the important governing bodies in America giving to the publishers of Spalding's Athletic Library the right to publish their official books and official rules.

A glance at the names of the authors of the different volumes will convince the reader that the best men in each particular line, the men best qualified to write intelligently on each subject, are selected; and, as a result, there is not another series in the world like Spalding's Athletic Library series.

It is immaterial what new game or form of sport be conceived or advanced, it is invariably the aim of the publishers to have a book on that sport. In that way Spalding's Athletic Library is in the field at the beginning of the sport, follows it year in and year out and there can be no doubt whatever that the present popularity of athletic sports can attribute the same to the "backing" it has received from Spalding's Athletic Library.

SPALDING ATHLETIC LIBRARY

Group I. Base Ball

No. 1—Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide.

The leading Base Ball annual of the country, and the official authority of the game. Edited by Henry Chadwick, the "Father of Base Ball." Contains the official playing rules, with an explanatory index of the rules compiled by Mr. A. G. Spalding; pictures of all the teams in the National, American and minor leagues; official averages; reviews of the season in all the professional organizations; college Base Ball, and a great deal of interesting information. Price 10 cents.

No. 202—How to Play Base Ball.

Edited by T. H. Murnane. New and revised edition. Contents: How to become a good batter; how to run the bases; advice to base runners, by James E. Sullivan, President A.A.U.;

how to become a good pitcher; how to become a good catcher; how to play first base; how to play second base; how to play third base; how to play shortstop; how to play the infield; how to play the outfield; the earmarks of a ball player, by John J. McGraw; good advice for players; how to organize a team; how to manage a team; how to score a game; how to umpire a game; base ball rules interpreted for boys. Price 10 cents.

No. 223—How to Bat.

The most important part of ball playing nowadays, outside of pitching, is batting. The team that can bat and has some good pitchers can win base ball games; therefore, every boy and young man who has, of course, already learned to catch, should turn his attention to this department of the game, and there is no better way of becoming proficient than by reading this book and then constantly practising the little tricks explained. Price 10 cts.

No. 232—How to Run the Bases.

The importance of base running as a scientific feature of the national game is becoming more and more recognized each year. Besides being spectacular, feats of base stealing nearly always figure in the winning of a game. Many a close contest is decided on the winning of that little strip of 90 feet which lies between cushions. When hits are few and the enemy's pitchers steady, it becomes incumbent on the opposing team to get around the bases in some manner. Effective stealing not only increases the effectiveness of the team by advancing its runners without wasting hits, but it serves to materially disconcert the enemy and frequently has caused an entire opposing club to temporarily lose its poise and throw away the game. This book gives clear and concise directions for excelling as a base runner; tells when to run and when not to do so; how and when to slide; team work on the bases; in fact, every point of the game is thoroughly explained. Illustrated with pictures of leading players. Price 16 cents.

No. 230—How to Pitch.

A new, up-to-date book. The object of this book is to aid the beginners who aspire to become clever twirlers, and its contents are the practical teaching of men who have reached the top as pitchers, and who know how to impart a knowledge of their art. All the big leagues' pitchers are shown. Price 10 cents.

No. 229—How to Catch.

Undoubtedly the best book on catching that has yet been published. Every boy who has hopes of being a clever catcher should read how well-known players cover their position. Among the more noted ones who describe their methods of play in this book are Lou Criger of the Boston Americans and Johnnie Kling of the Chicago Nationals. The numerous pictures comprise all the noted catchers in the big leagues. Price 10 cents.

SPALDING ATHLETIC LIBRARY

No. 225—How to Play First Base.

No other position in a ball team has shown such a change for the better in recent years as first base. Modifications in line with the betterment of the sport in every department have been made at intervals, but in no other department have they been so radical. No boy who plays the initial sack can afford to overlook the points and hints contained in this book. Entirely new and up to date. Illustrated with full-page pictures of all the prominent first basemen. Price 10 cents.

No. 226—How to Play Second Base.

There are so few men who can cover second base to perfection that their names can easily be called off by anyone who follows the game of base ball. Team owners who possess such players would not part with them for thousands of dollars. These men have been interviewed and their ideas incorporated in this book for the especial benefit of boys who want to know the fine points of play at this point of the diamond. Illustrated with full-page pictures. Price 10 cents.

No. 227—How to Play Third Base.

Third base is, in some respects, the most important of the infield. No major league team has ever won a pennant without a great third baseman. Collins of the Boston Americans and Leach of Pittsburgh are two of the greatest third base men the game has ever seen, and their teams owe much of the credit for pennants they have won to them. These men in this book describe just how they play the position. Everything a player should know is clearly set forth and any boy will surely increase his chances of success by a careful reading of this book. Illustrated. Price 10 cents.

No. 228—How to Play Shortstop.

Shortstop is one of the hardest positions on the infield to fill, and quick thought and quick action are necessary for a player who expects to make good as a shortstop. The views of every well-known player who covers this position have been sought in compiling this book. Illustrated. Price 10 cents.

No. 224—How to Play the Outfield.

Compiled especially for the young player who would become an expert. The best book on playing the outfield that has ever been published. There are just as many tricks to be learned, before a player can be a competent fielder, as there are in any other position on a nine, and this book explains them all. Price 10 cents.

No. 231—How to Coach; How to Captain a Team; How to Manage a Team; How to Umpire; How to Organize a League; Technical Terms of Base Ball.

A useful guide to all who are interested in the above subjects. Jimmy Collins writes on coaching; M. J. Kelly on captaining; Al Buckenberger on managing; Frank Dwyer of the American League staff on umpiring; Fred Lake on minor leagues, and the editor, T. H. Murman, President of the New England League, on how to organize a league. The chapters on Technical Terms of Base Ball have been written by Henry Chadwick, the "Father of Base Ball," and define the meaning of all the terms peculiar to the National Game. Price 10 cents.

No. 219—Ready Reckoner of Base Ball Percentages.

To supply a demand for a book which would show the percentage of clubs without recourse to the arduous work of figuring, the publishers have had these tables compiled by an expert. Price 10 cents.

SPALDING ATHLETIC LIBRARY

Group XII. Athletics

No. 12—Spalding's Official Athletic Almanac.

Compiled by J. E. Sullivan, Chief Department Physical Culture, Louisiana Purchase Exposition, Director Olympic Games, 1904, Special Commissioner from the United States to the Olympic Games at Athens, 1906, and President of the Amateur Athletic Union. The only annual publication now issued that contains a complete list of amateur best-on-records; complete intercollegiate records; complete English records from 1864; swimming records; interscholastic records; Irish, Scotch, Continental, South African and Australasian records; important athletic events and numerous photos of individual athletes and leading athletic teams. Price 10 cents.

No. 27—College Athletics.

M. C. Murphy, the well-known athletic trainer, now with Pennsylvania, the author of this book, has written it especially for the school-boy and college man, but it is invaluable for the athlete who wishes to excel in any branch of athletic sport. The subjects comprise the following articles: Training, starting, sprinting; how to train for the quarter, half, mile and longer distances; walking; high and broad jumping; hurdling; pole vaulting; throwing the hammer. It is profusely illustrated with pictures of leading athletes. Price 10 cents.

No. 182—All-Around Athletics.

Gives in full the method of scoring the All-Around Championship, giving percentage tables showing what each man receives for each performance in each of the ten events. It contains as well instructive articles on how to train for the All-Around Championship. Illustrated with many pictures of champions in action and scores at all-around meets. Price 10 cents.

No. 156—Athlete's Guide.

How to become an athlete. It contains full instructions for the beginner, telling how to sprint, hurdle, jump and throw weights, general hints on training; in fact, this book is one of the most complete on the subject that has ever appeared. Special chapters contain valuable advice to beginners and important A. A. U. rules and their explanations, while the pictures comprise many scenes of champions in action. Price 10 cents.

No. 87—Athletic Primer.

Edited by James E. Sullivan, President of the Amateur Athletic Union. Tells how to organize an athletic club, how to conduct an athletic meeting, and gives rules for the government of athletic meetings; contents also include directions for building a track and laying out athletic grounds, and a very instructive article on training; fully illustrated with pictures of leading athletes. A complete account of the Olympic Games of 1906, at Athens, the greatest International Athletic Contest ever held. Containing a short history of the games, story of the American team's trip and their reception at Athens, complete list of starters in every event; winners, their times and distances; the Stadium; list of winners in previous Olympic Games at Athens, Paris and St. Louis, and a great deal of other interesting information. Compiled by J. E. Sullivan, Special Commissioner from the United States to the Olympic Games. Price 10 cts.

No. 252—How to Sprint.

A complete and detailed account of how to train for the short distances. Every athlete who aspires to be a sprinter can study this book to advantage and gain useful knowledge. Price 10 cents.

SPALDING ATHLETIC LIBRARY

No. 255—How to Run 100 Yards.

By J. W. Morton, the noted British champion. Written by Mr. Morton during his recent American trip, in 1905, especially for boys. Mr. Morton knows how to handle his subject, and his advice and directions for attaining speed, will undoubtedly be of immense assistance to the great majority of boys who have to rely on printed instructions. Many of Mr. Morton's methods of training are novel to American athletes, but his success is the best tribute to their worth. Illustrated with photographs of Mr. Morton in action, taken especially for this book in New York City. Price 10 cents.

No. 174—Distance and Cross-Country Running.

By George Orton, the famous University of Pennsylvania runner. Tells how to become proficient at the quarter, half, mile, the longer distances, and cross-country running and steeplechasing, with instructions for training and schedules to be observed when preparing for a contest. Illustrated with numerous pictures of leading athletes in action, with comments by the editor on the good and bad points shown. Price 10 cents.

No. 246—Athletic Training for Schoolboys.

This book is the most complete work of its kind yet attempted. The compiler is Geo. W. Orton, of the University of Pennsylvania, a famous athlete himself and who is well qualified to give instructions to the beginner. Each event in the intercollegiate programme is treated of separately, both as regards method of training and form. By following the directions given, the young athlete will be sure to benefit himself without the danger of overworking as many have done through ignorance, rendering themselves unfitted for their task when the day of competition arrived. Price 10 cents.

No. 259—Weight Throwing.

By James S. Mitchel, Champion American weight thrower, and holder of American, Irish, British and Canadian championships. Probably no other man in the world has had the varied and long experience of James S. Mitchel in the weight throwing department of athletics. The book is written in an instructive way, and gives valuable information not only for the novice, but for the expert as well. Illustrated. Price 10 cents.

No. 55—Official Sporting Rules.

Manly Sports

SPALDING ATHLETIC LIBRARY

No. 191—How to Punch the Bag. No. 262—Medicine Ball Exercises.

By W. H. Rothwell ("Young Corbett"). This book is undoubtedly the best treatise on bag punching that has ever been printed. Every variety of blow used in training is shown and explained. The pictures comprise thirty-three full page reproductions of Young Corbett as he appears while at work in his training quarters. The photographs were taken by our special artist and cannot be seen in any other publication. Fancy bag punching is treated by a well-known theatrical bag puncher, who shows the latest tricks. Price 10 cents.

This book is not a technical treatise, but a series of plain and practical exercises with the medicine ball, suitable for boys and girls, business and professional men, in and out of gymnasium. Lengthy explanation and technical nomenclature have been avoided and illustrations used instead. The exercises are fascinating and attractive, and avoid any semblance of drudgery. Edited by W. J. Cromie, physical director Germantown (Pa.) Y.M.C.A. Price 10 cents.

No. 143—Indian Clubs and Dumb-Bells.

Two of the most popular forms of home or gymnasium exercise. This book is written by America's amateur champion club swinger, J. H. Dougherty. It is clearly illustrated, by which any novice can become an expert. Price 10 cents.

No. 166—How to Swing Indian Clubs.

By Prof. E. B. Warman, the well-known exponent of physical culture. By following the directions carefully anyone can become an expert. Price 10 cents.

No. 200—Dumb-Bells.

This is undoubtedly the best work on dumb-bells that has ever been offered. The author, Mr. G. Bojus, was formerly superintendent of physical culture in the Elizabeth (N. J.) public schools, instructor at Columbia University (New York), instructor for four years at the Columbia summer school and is now proprietor of the Park Place Gymnasium, at 14 Park Place, New York City. The book contains 200 photographs of all the various exercises with the instructions in large, readable type. It should be in the hands of every teacher and pupil of physical culture, and is invaluable for home exercise. Price 10 cents.

No. 233—Jiu Jitsu.

A complete description of this famous Japanese system of self-defence. Each move thoroughly explained and illustrated with numerous full-page pictures of Messrs. A. Minami and K. Koyama, two of the most famous exponents of the art of Jiu Jitsu, who posed especially for this book. Be sure and ask for the Spalding Athletic Library book on Jiu Jitsu. Price 10 cents.

No. 104—The Grading of Gymnastic Exercises.

By G. M. Martin, Physical Director of the Y. M. C. A. of Youngstown, Ohio. It is a book that should be in the hands of every physical director of the Y. M. C. A., school, club, college, etc. Price 10 cents.

SPALDING ATHLETIC LIBRARY

No. 214—Graded Calisthenics and Dumb-Bell Drills.

By Albert B. Wegener, Physical Director Y. M. C. A., Rochester, N. Y. Ever since graded apparatus work has been used in gymnastics, the necessity of having a mass drill that would harmonize with it has been felt. For years it has been the established custom in most gymnasiums of memorizing a set drill, never varied from one year's end to the other. Consequently the beginner was given the same kind and amount as the older member. With a view to giving uniformity the present treatise is attempted. Price 10 cents.

No. 254—Barnjum Bar Bell Drill.

Edited by Dr. R. Taft McKenzie, Director Physical Training, University of Pennsylvania. Profusely illustrated. Price 10 cents.

No. 158—Indoor and Outdoor Gymnastic Games.

Without question one of the best books of its kind ever published. Compiled by Prof. A. M. Chesley, the well-known Y. M. C. A. physical director. It is a book that will prove valuable to indoor and outdoor gymnasiums, schools, outings and gatherings where there are a number to be amused. The games described comprise a list of 120, divided into several groups. Price 10 cents.

No. 124—How to Become a Gymnast.

By Robert Stoll, of the New York A. C., the American champion on the flying rings from 1885 to 1892. Any boy who frequents a gymnasium can easily follow the illustrations and instructions in this book and with a little practice become proficient on the horizontal and parallel bars, the trapeze or the "horse." Price 10 cents.

No. 287—Fancy Dumb Bell and Marching Drills.

By W. J. Cronie, Physical Director Germantown (Pa.) Y.M.C.A. The author says:

All concede that games and recreative exercises during the adolescent period are preferable to set drills and monotonous movements. If we can introduce this game-and-play element in our gymnastic exercises, then dumb bells will cease to be the boy's nightmare, and he will look forward with expectancy to mass work as much as he formerly did to "shooting a goal." These drills, while designed primarily for boys, can be used successfully with girls and men and women. Profusely illustrated. Price 10 cents.

Group XVI. Physical Culture

No. 161—Ten Minutes' Exercise for Busy Men.

By Dr. Luther Halsey Cutlick, Director of Physical Training in the New York public schools. By Prof. E. B. Warman, and uniform with his other publications on Scientific Physical Training (see Spalding's Athletic Library Nos. 142, 149, 166, 185, 208, 213, 260). The "Tensing" or "Resisting" system of muscular exercises is the most thorough, the most complete, the most satisfactory, and the most fascinating of systems. Price 10 cents.

No. 285—Health; by Muscular Gymnastics.

With hints on Right Living. By W. J. Cromie, Physical Director Germantown (Pa.) Y.M.C.A. The author says: "Seeing the great need for exercise among the masses and knowing that most books on the subject are too expensive or too difficult to comprehend, the author felt it his privilege to write one which is simple and the price of which is within the reach of all. If one will practise the exercises and observe the hints therein contained, he will be amply repaid for so doing." Price 10 cents.

No. 288—Indigestion Treated by Gymnastics

By W. J. Cromie, Physical Director Germantown (Pa.) Y.M.C.A. This book deals with the causes, symptoms and treatment of constipation and indigestion. It embraces diet, water cure, mental culture, massage and photographic illustrations of exercises which tend to cure the above diseases. If the hints therein contained are observed and the exercises faithfully performed, most forms of the above diseases will be helped. Price 10 cents.

No. 290—Get Well; Keep Well.

This is a series of chapters by Prof. E. B. Warman, the author of a number of books in the Spalding Athletic Library on physical training. The subjects are all written in a clear and convincing style. Price 10 cents.

INTRODUCTION

It was my luck to be present at a Cricket match played in City Park, Denver, on Memorial Day, May 30; to see a game in Chicago on July 4; to witness the contest between Brooklyn and Staten Island at Prospect Park, Brooklyn, on the following Saturday; and to see Surrey defeat Yorkshire at the Oval in London a month later. It might well be imagined that infinite was the variety of Cricket seen; but looking back on it all, the impression left is that Cricket in America has vastly improved. We should be thankful for this. The game makes slow strides in popularity; but our players are improving in skill.

The present is the sixteenth annual issue of the AMERICAN CRICKET ANNUAL, and, as usual, I have to thank the many kind friends who have assisted me in its preparation.

JEROME FLANNERY.

TOM HAYWARD- FACING THE BOWLER

Early Cricket

By "McW.," London, in Spalding's Official Cricket Guide (British Sports Publishing Company, 2 and 3, Hind Court, Fleet Street, London).

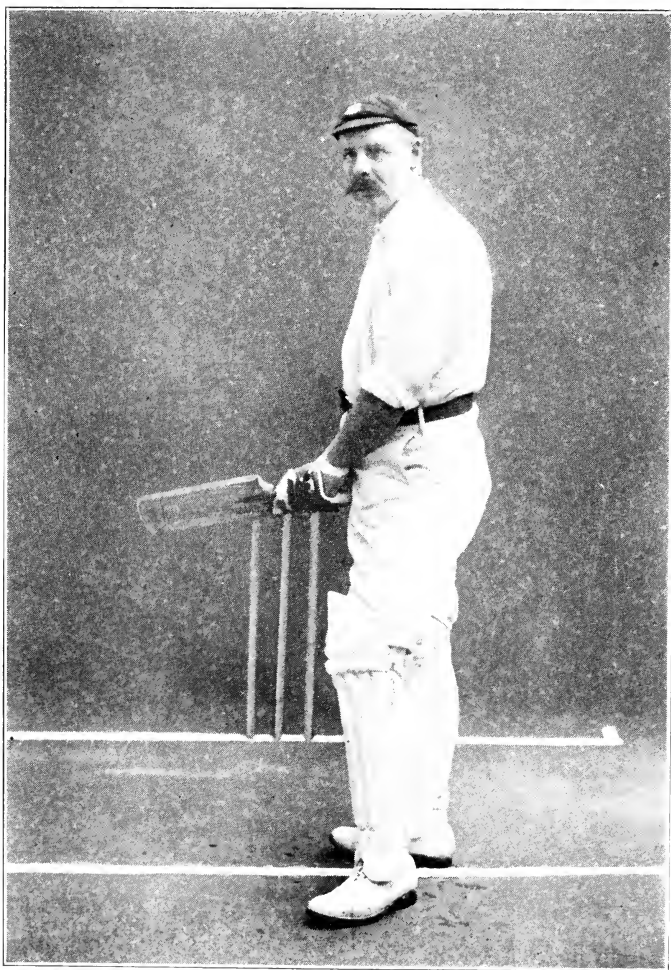

Do not let us, in our anxiety to prove the antiquity of Cricket as a game, allow our enthusiasm to outrun our judgment, and accord to England's pastime an historical beginning which does not belong to it. It would be easy to make out a case that a game of ball was played by the ancient Greeks or by the Assyrians or by the Medes and Persians, but when we had established such a fact our arguments would, I fear, answer equally well in the case of foot ball or base ball, or any other game in which the ball played a prominent part. Mr. Albert Knight, in "The Complete Cricketer," tells us that "Herodotus, the 'Father of History,' whose reputation for truthfulness is an unusual attribute of his time," ascribes the game of ball to the inhabitants of Lydia, whose civilization exercised so powerful an influence upon Greek culture, and indirectly upon Grecian games.

ANOTHER ANANIAS.

Here I join issue with Mr. Knight. If there ever existed an unmitigated old romancist in matters historical it was Herodotus. He it was who antedated Shakespeare, who makes Othello speak of "Anthropophagi and men whose heads do grow beneath their shoulders." Herodotus made the Ethiopians of this repulsive type, and, to tell the truth, the old humbug indulged in the habit, not unknown in Fleet Street, of "pulling his readers' legs." I remember so well when as students we wrestled with Herodotus in the study and lecture-room that we voted him the most arrant old liar of ancient Greece. Therefore I say that if he declares that the inhabitants of Lydia indulged in a game of ball, it is safe to assume that he was guilty of what is called in modern euphemism terminological inexactitude.

CLUB-BALL.

It has been contended by so great an authority as the Rev. James Pycroft, B.A., in his book "The Cricket Field," that our national game took its name from "Creag," the Saxon term for the crooked stick, or bandy, which we see in the old pictures of Cricket, and that it was played in 1300. This derivation Dr. Murray dismisses as impossible, but, whilst that is so, there is no doubt that, according to Strutt, there is "in the Bodleian Library at Oxford a MS., dated 1344, which represents a figure, a female, in the act of bowling a ball (of the size of a modern Cricket ball) to a man who elevates a straight bat to strike it; behind the bowler are several figures, male and female, waiting to stop or catch the ball, their attitudes grotesquely eager for a 'chance.' The game is called club-ball, but the score is made by hitting and running, as in Cricket."

THE EARLY GAME.

It is true that the MS. does not show any wickets, but these we must regard solely as developments of the early game, wherein the getting of the ball into the block-hole was the procedure for getting the batsman out. The block-hole was probably not like our modern one, but rather resembled a basin cut out in the turf. If the prototype of our wicket-keeper got the ball into this receptacle ere the batsman was able to get his bat into it, then the striker was out. Of course to this club-ball many of our pastimes may trace their origin, notably rounders, base ball, golf, and knurr-and-spell, familiar to my Northern readers. Even tip-cap may trace its parentage to that early game, but in so much as the game was played with a ball, and the score was made by hitting and running, we may conclude that only Cricket, rounders, and base ball really owe their origin to that fourteenth-century pastime.

CRICKET IN 1600.

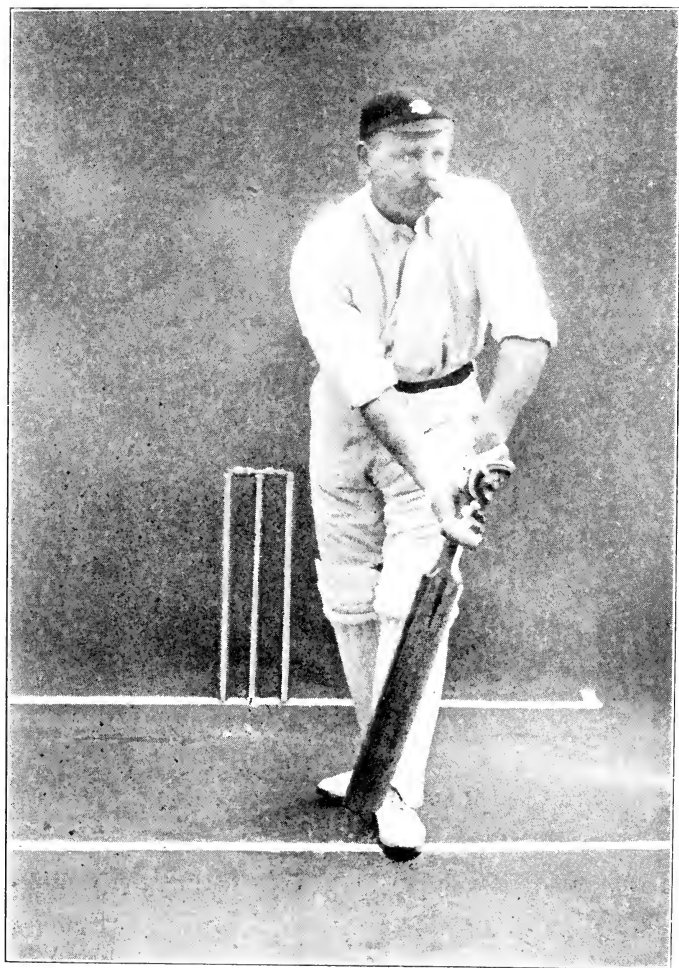

Be that as it may, there is no doubt whatever that Cricket must have been played before the year 1600, since Dr. Murray cites a case, antecedent to that date, wherein Cricket is mentioned. "John Denwick of Guldeford . . . one of the Queene's Majesties Coroners of the County of Surrey, being of the age of fyfty and nine years or there aboute . . . saithe upon his oath that hee hath known the parcell of land . . . for the space of fyfty years and more and . . . saith that hee being a scholar in the Free Schoole of Guldeford, hee and several of his fellows did runne and play there at Creckett and other plaies."

CRICKET AT ANTIOCH.

Coming to a later date, Mr. Pycroft quotes the following passage which speaks of the game: "This morning early (May 6, 1676), as is the custom all the summer long, at least forty of the English, with his worship the Consul, rode out of the city (Antioch) about four miles, to a fine valley by a river-side to recreate themselves. There a princely tent was pitched and we had several pastimes and sports, as duck-hunting, fishing, shooting, hand ball, and Cricket, and then a noble dinner brought thither, with great plenty of all sorts of wines, punch, and lemonade; and at six o'clock we returned all home in good order, but soundly tired and weary."—From the diary of Henry Teonge, Chaplain on board His Majesty Charles II.'s ships Assistance, Bristol, Royal Oak, A.D. 1675-1679.

DEAN SWIFT AND CRICKET.

Dean Swift, in his pamphlet "John Bull," mentions Cricket in the year 1712: "John Bull began to pursue his own interests through all impediments thrown in his way. He left off some of his old acquaintance, put on a serious air, knit his brows, and for the time had made a very considerable progress in politics, considering that he had been kept a stranger to his own affairs. However, he could not help discovering some remains of his nature when he happened to meet with a foot ball or a match at Cricket."

ROYAL PATRONAGE.

Royalty did much for Cricket in its early days, and the patronage of princes did much to free it from the stigma of being deemed a game not fit for gentlemen. In fact, it was due to the blow from a Cricket ball that Frederick, Prince of Wales, son of George II., died. "He expired," says Sir Nathaniel Wraxall, in 1751, "suddenly at Leicester House, in the arms of Besnoyers, the celebrated dancing master. His end was caused by an internal abscess that had long been forming in consequence of a blow which he received in the side from a Cricket ball while he was engaged in playing at that game on the lawn at Cliefden House in Buckinghamshire, where he then principally resided. Death did not take place, however, till several months after the accident, when a collection of matter burst and instantly suffocated him."

THE HAMBLETON CLUB.

The history of Cricket is inextricably bound up with that of the famous Hambledon Club. The attempts to trace its history to an earlier date than 1750 have not met with success. This much, however, is certain: until 1769 the wondrous Hampshire village club was victorious over all comers. It is not my aim here to discourse of the wonderful players of the club. I simply touch upon it as a sort of landmark in Cricket history. How lovingly Albert Knight deals with its great heroes in his delightful book "The Complete Cricketer"!

BEGINNING OF THE M.C.C.

It was not until 1787 that the great Marylebone Cricket Club was properly established. It was formed from a group of cricketers who played in the White Conduit Fields. It was Thomas Lord who secured, in 1787, the lease of ten acres of land from the Duke of Dorset for the club, and almost immediately it became the authoritative controller of the national game. For over twenty years the club's ground was where Dorset Square now stands. Compelled to move, in 1810, they made their home at North Bank, Regent's Park. The making of the Regent's Canal drove them thence, and in 1814 they moved to their present headquarters in St. John's Wood, but carried with them the name of their ground, which is not likely ever to be changed. Lord's Cricket Ground it has been for nearly a century, and Lord's Cricket Ground it is likely to remain.

Early Days of Cricket in America

By GEORGE WRIGHT, BOSTON.

The originals of the two cards reproduced on the accompanying pages (which were handed down to me by my father, who was a playing member of the club for twenty years, playing in all the matches between the United States and Canada) bring one back to the early days of the game of Cricket in America

The St. George's Cricket Club, to which the cards refer, was composed mostly of Englishmen who learned the game in England. It was then one of the few leading Cricket clubs in this country: there was also a club in Philadelphia at this time called the Union Cricket Club, composed of a few English residents, with their grounds at German-town.

TOM HAYWARD FORWARD PLAY.

The grounds of the St. George's Club at this time were situated at the crossing of Broadway, Sixth Avenue, and Thirtieth Street, New York City, on either side of which were vegetable gardens. From here the club moved to a place then known as the "Red House," 108th Street and Second Avenue, where the grounds were located inside of a half-mile race track. On an elevation overlooking the same, was a large hotel and club house. During these years 1845 to 1856, it was quite a resort for the better class of gentlemen to visit, who had fast horses.

Then, about 1856, the club again moved, to Hoboken, N. J., where they continued until about 1880, when the old members died off and it gradually went out of existence.

During the early parts of these years the club visited Canada, receiving visits in return (as mentioned as follows on card) :

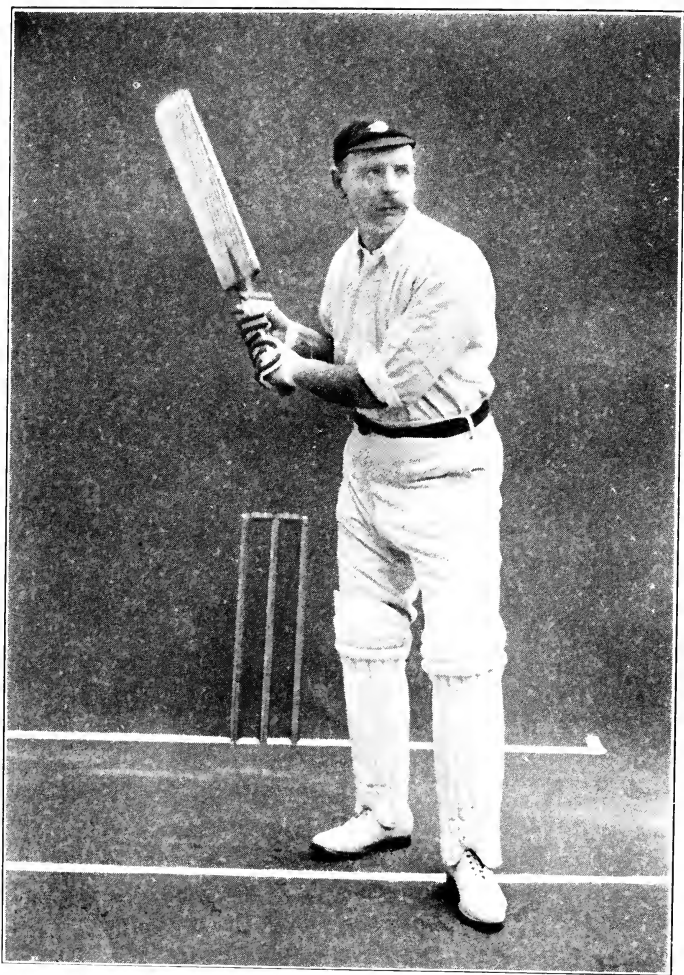

DINNER GIVEN BY THE ST. GEORGE'S CRICKET CLUB, NEW YORK, IN HONOR OF A VISIT FROM THE TORONTO
CRICKET CLUB OF TORONTO.

The trips were not so quickly and easily made then as at the present day, for after reaching Albany the journey had to be made by canal boat the greater part of the way, which would take from three to four days.

The following dates at this time might prove of interest.

UNITED STATES VS. CANADA.

The idea of a series of international matches was first suggested by the St. George's Club, of New York City, which, with the assistance of Philadelphia clubs, played against elevens of Montreal and Toronto in 1844, 1845 and 1846 the Canadians winning the three games. In 1853 an annual series of matches was begun, alternating the places of playing, and was continued until 1860, when the Civil War put a stop to any further play until 1865, when a picked eleven of the United States visited Toronto, winning the match by one wicket. I had the pleasure of being one of the eleven.

TOM HAYWARD -PREPARING TO HIT TO LEG.

Tom Hayward's New Role

From the Sporting Life, London, England, February 2, 1907.

When our representative looked in at Messrs. Spalding and Brothers' factory at Putney, Tom Hayward was busy selecting and testing the bats which are to bear the great Surrey cricketers' name. With him was Mr. Charles Barron, who looks after the cricket department of the firm in Fetter Lane. With his usual courtesy Tom gave our representative a few minutes of his valuable time remarking that the work he has undertaken at Putney will consume most of the leisure that he would have had before the cricket season opens. The Surrey professional's new work is congenial, and the fine stock of perfect willow that Messrs. Spalding and Brothers have at Putney has made Tom as keen as if he were at the Oval compiling those inimitable centuries that have made him famous. Those who are fortunate enough to have one of the Hayward bats have only themselves to blame if numerous centuries are not recorded. Tom Hayward is no ornamental figure, giving his name to a bat with which he is not perfectly satisfied, and his keen eye and experienced touch are brought into use before one bat is passed and signed.

To our representative's query, Tom replied that the responsible work he had undertaken would not interfere in any way with his duties to the Surrey County Club. He will turn out regularly for his side, and will devote his spare hours to the testing and selection of the bats. "I am afraid," he remarked, "that had this work been started last season I would have been rather badly pressed, for a harder season I have never put in."

Chatting of the prospects of Surrey, Tom expressed himself as being delighted that Lord Dalmeny had again accepted the captaincy. "The captaincy of the team by Lord Dalmeny," said Hayward, "has done more to pull the county club together than anything else. Every member of the team will be delighted at the prospect of again serving under his lordship, and it will put heart into us all. He is a captain whose conduct to his team commands loyalty. Every man on the side can be counted upon to do his best for Lord Dalmeny."

"Then you think the prospects of the Surrey Club are bright for next season?"

"Yes, I think that with Alan Marshal, who has now qualified for the county, and with all the old talent available, we may count upon having a great chance of pulling off the championship."

TOM HAYWARD PREPARING TO OFF DRIVE.

"And what of the youngsters?"

"Well," replied Hayward, "the youngsters may be counted upon to come forward when required. The club is now looking after the youngsters and is ready to take advantage of the services of likely young fellows."

"You believe in looking upon the district clubs as feeders of the county clubs?"

"Well, with such a club as Surrey it is absolutely necessary. We older fellows can't live for ever, and if a team works as we worked last season, by the month of August a little fresh blood is necessary. It might almost be said that Kent won the championship by this means. One thing we shall miss," continued Hayward, "and that is the coaching of poor Walter Read. The whole team mourns his death, and we shall greatly miss him."

With regard to the South African team who will visit these shores this season, Tom suggested that there would be no "fireworks," though he was not inclined to take the visitors too cheaply. "The South Africans are coming," he said, "but it will be a few years before they are likely to compare with the Australians, or before they beat an all-England team in a test match."

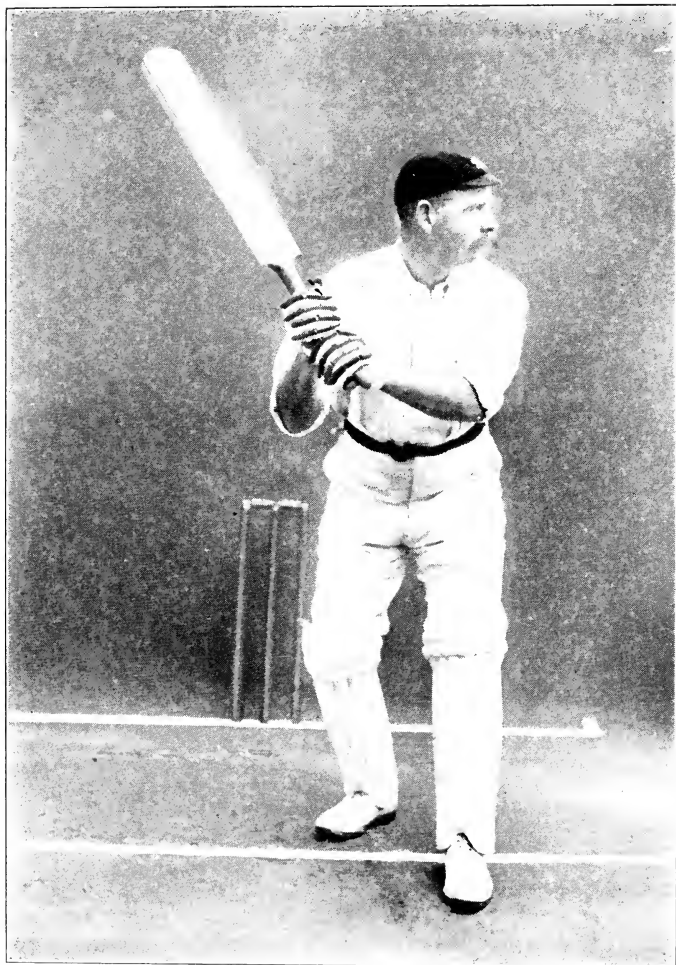

"But if they are able to hold their own in the counties, they may be able to give a good account of themselves in test matches?"

"Test match Cricket," replied the great Surrey cricketer, "the strangers will find is entirely different from county Cricket. There is as great a difference between a test match and county Cricket as there is between county Cricket and club Cricket. The play, the excitement, the restless nights, and the great anxiety during a test match is something that only those who have experienced can realize. But there is no knowing what the South Africans will do. All that I can say," concluded Hayward as he returned to his work among the bats, "is that I wish them good luck, and I am sure that all English cricketers will do the same."

T. HAYWARD.

(Born March 29, 1871.)

Some idea of Hayward's perpetual youth may be found in his last season's work, which eclipsed the best he has hitherto accomplished. In first-class cricket he played 61 innings, was not out 8 times, scored 3,518 runs, made a highest innings of 219, and had an average of 66.37. His season was a record one in every way. He was able to equal C. B. Fry's record of scoring 13 innings of 100 or more runs, these being 144, 100, 143, 125, 219, 208, 144, 144, 135, 124, 110, 109, and 100. He scored the highest aggregate of runs ever obtained in a single season, the nearest approach to this being the performance of his noted clubmate, Bobbie Abel, who in 1901 aggregated 3,309. Hayward himself comes a good third with 3,170 runs in 1904. Then comes Ranjitsinhji with 3,159 runs in 1899, C. B. Fry with 3,147 in 1901, Ranjitsinhji with 3,065 in 1900, and Tyldesley with 3,041 in 1901. W. G. Grace never aggregated 3,000 runs in a single season.

The subject of this sketch is the nephew of the celebrated Cambridge-shire cricketer Thomas Hayward.

Some of his most notable performances are as follows:

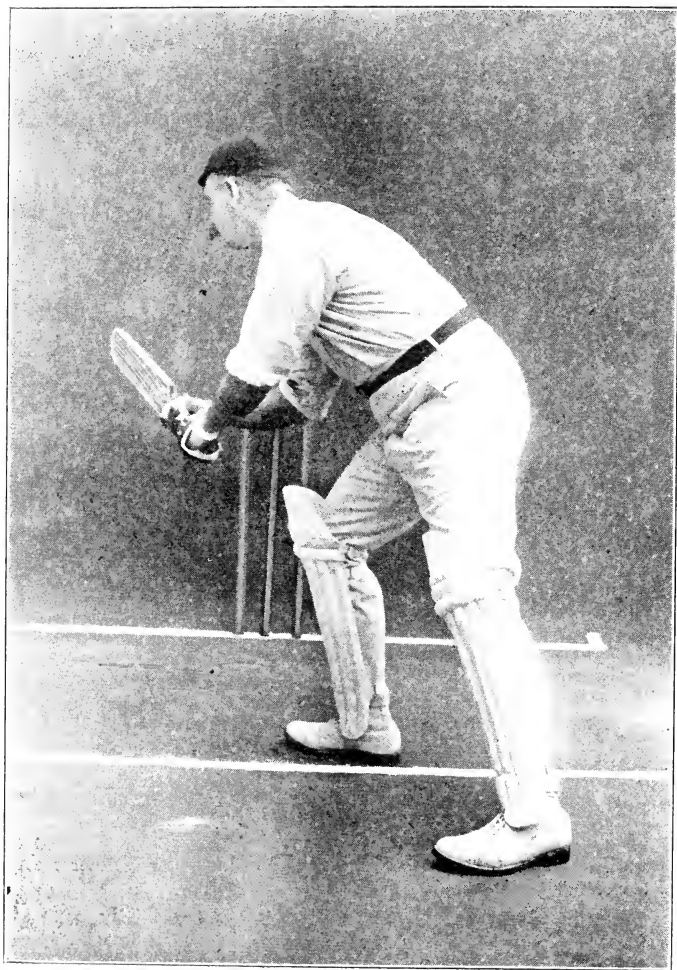

He made 315 not out for Surrey vs. Lancashire at Kennington Oval, August, 1898. He made two separate hundreds in a first-class match on three occasions, viz., 106 and 112 for Surrey vs. Sussex at Brighton, July, 1904; 144 not out and 100 for Surrey vs. Notts at Trent Bridge, June, 1906; and 143 and 125 for Surrey vs. Leicestershire at Leicester, also in June, 1906. The last two instances occurred in one week, something which had never been done before in first-class matches.

In February, 1902, at Sydney, together with Mr. A. C. McLaren, he scored 314 for the first wicket for Mr. A. C. McLaren's England XI. vs. New South Wales. This is a record partnership for any wicket in a first-class match in Australia.

At the Oval in August, 1899, together with Abel, he scored 448 runs for the fourth wicket for Surrey vs. Yorkshire. This is the second best partnership for any wicket in a first-class match.

Hayward has also made 2,000 in a season in the following cases: 1899 (2,647), 1900 (2,693), 1901 (2,535), 1903 (2,177), 1905 (2,592), and other notable performances too numerous to mention. He has visited Australia several times, and always with success. "The famous bat with which Tom Hayward made 144 not out and 100 against Notts, and 143 and 125 against Leicestershire, in one week during last season, was sold for £65 18s. This price was obtained in connection with a charity match at Cambridge, arranged by Hayward, the total receipts of which, over £150, were handed to the District Nurses Fund. This is, by a very long way, the record price for a bat. The fortunate possessor is Mr. E. J. Amps, of Cambridge, himself a very keen sportsman."

Hayward plays perfect cricket, his methods being strictly orthodox. Unlike Ranjitsinhji, Trumper, and the versatile Hirst, he does not attempt the seemingly impossible. He is the model for the youthful batsman, and as the Referee said of him, "We find him better at five-and-thirty years of age than he was at five-and-twenty, his method being above everything sound." He has hardly, we believe, reached the zenith of his fame, and it is possible that he may yet put other records to his credit.

TOM HAYWARD - A LATE CUT.

The Season in Philadelphia

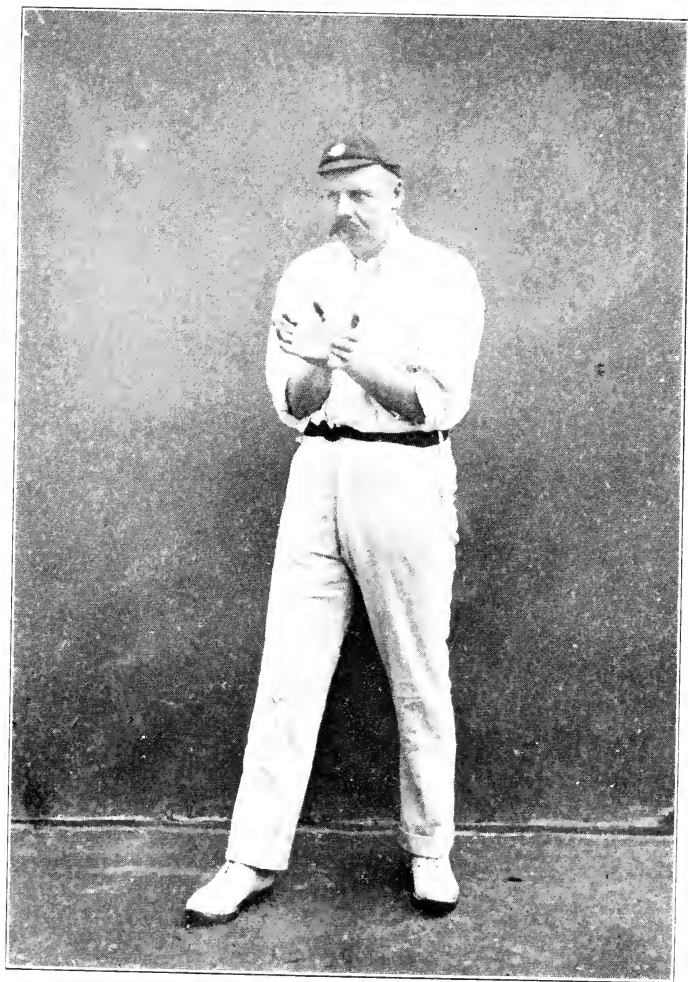

Cricket in Philadelphia is in a healthy and flourishing condition. Since the formation of the "Associated Cricket Clubs" in 1895 the interest displayed by veterans and juniors alike has been, if possible, keener than ever. Only in and around this city are to be found the splendid grounds and club houses that England is noted for, and in no other locality has the game taken such a hold among the "colts."

The season of 1906 was an eminently successful one. The Halifax Cup competition developed a grand struggle between the Germantown and Merion clubs, victory eventually going to the former with a record of 9 matches won out of 10 played. Merion played some splendid games and only lost two in the series, while Belmont and Philadelphia had to be content with but four victories apiece. In Section B, a close battle for supremacy between Germantown and Moorestown was decided in favor of the former by a small margin, with Frankford and Merion bringing up the rear. Germantown, therefore, had the distinction of heading the two sections, and its members may justly be proud of the enviable record made.

By a singular coincidence the leaders in batting and bowling were the same as in 1905, but with the positions reversed. J. Barton King, the winner of the bowling cup of the previous season, headed the batting list with the big average of 61.50, made possible by the wonderful innings of 344 not out, against Team B of Merion at Elmwood. F. S. White, of Germantown, came second with the good average of 45.10 and a high score of 103 not out. Percy H. Clark, of Germantown, followed with an aggregate of 464 runs and an average of 38.67. J. A. Lester, of Merion, who the previous season headed the batsmen with an average of 72.30, had to be content with fourth position with an average of 32.

Lester, however, advanced to first place among the bowlers and won the bowling cup with an average of 6.65 for 32 wickets—an unusually fine record. D. H. Adams, of Merion, improved wonderfully as a trundler and captured second position with 16 wickets taken at an average cost of 7.12. R. H. Patton was third with an average of 10.52, closely followed by C. B. Wallace with an average of 10.64.

Although denied the privilege of having one of its members at the head of either the batting or bowling list, Germantown may claim to have a strong team, rather better with the willow than with the ball. In the Halifax Cup competition six of the members finished the season with averages of over 20 and to these men the major credit for the club's premier position must be given. F. S. White had the fine aggregate of 451 runs compiled in the series with an average slightly over 45. P. H. Clark proved a tower of strength in both departments averaging 38 with the bat in 12 innings and capturing 36 wickets at exactly 14 runs a wicket. F. H. Bohlen, while just missing the covered century, averaged nearly 30 in 10 completed innings, and J. E. C. Morton played well for his average of 24, and succeeded in taking 15 wickets. W. P. Newhall and F. A. Green made good averages with both bat and ball and were instrumental in gaining many a victory.

A. G. Priestman headed the Germantown bowlers with 37 wickets captured at an average of 12.03, a very creditable performance. He was followed closely by W. P. O'Neil with an average of 12.33 for 27 wickets, while, strangely enough, each had about the same figures in batting, viz., 17. A. N. Goodfellow was another trundler who proved his worth to the team and his record of 24 wickets for 343 runs was an exceptionally good one.

In the Philadelphia Cup series, Germantown was again to the fore, Team C coming out ahead with a percentage of .812 against .687 for the next club. Three batsmen shared very materially in the successes of the team, G. B. Robinson, G. B. Warder and A. F. Martin, all averaging around the thirty mark in batting, with Robinson, in addition, shining as a bowler. R. L. Perot, A. H. Haines and Dr. W. H. Weber also scored well, and the former was one of the three batsmen gaining the century in the Philadelphia Cup series. The best bowling figures were obtained by E. P. Bissell, G. B. Robinson and D. S. Newhall.

The Merion Club's position in the Halifax Cup competition was largely due to the all round playing of J. A. Lester, who finished first in both departments among the club members. He has certainly had more successful batting seasons in the past, but never before has he done so well with the ball. His best performance was against Moorestown, 5 wickets falling to him for only 9 runs scored. Once during the season he passed the century mark, obtaining a not out score of 111 against Team B of Germantown.

W. N. Merice was second in the batting list with an average in excess of 26, W. Thayer, C. C. Morris and S. W. Millin averaged 23 apiece, while H. A. Haines and J. L. Evans topped the 20 mark. Very close to Lester in the bowling figures came D. H. Adams, while R. H. Patton was third, although with a much higher percentage. Undoubtedly Merion's strength in 1906 was in the bowlers.

In the Philadelphia Cup series the Merion batting list was headed by R. Lee with an aggregate of 301 runs and an average of 37. W. W. Montgomery, Jr., averaged over 30 and had a high score of 117, while H. G. Pearce followed with 17 and, in addition, did the best bowling with 38 wickets at a cost of 8.52 apiece. A. T. Lowry was also successful as a bowler with 9.80 average for 15 wickets taken.

TOM HAYWARD—WAITING FOR A "SKIER" IN THE LONG FIELD.
HAYWARD IS A SAFE CATCH IN ALMOST ANY POSITION.

The Belmont Club did not do nearly as well as was expected. This may be partly owing to the non-success with the ball of J. B. King, who certainly had an off season in this department. Of course the feature of the Halifax Cup games was the new record for the United States and Canada made by King in his remarkable innings of 344 not out, which was scored in a little over five hours and was without a chance until 196 was registered. Mr. King, however, was not a consistent scorer during the season, as is shown by the fact that he made 468 runs in 3 innings, while in 5 innings he made but 24, all told.

D. Graham was the second in average with 23 and C. M. Graham followed with a fraction short of 20. Much was expected of A. M. Wood but he, too, had an off year and averaged only 13. E. M. Cregar and W. Graham were very close in bowling, the former's average being 12.54 and the latter's 12.79. Two teams were entered by Belmont in the Philadelphia Cup series and neither met with any great measure of success. W. A. Allison was the premier batsman, averaging 27, and A. H. Graham followed with 20. G. H. Semper, J. B. Henderson and H. V. Hordern were the best bowlers and all had remarkably low averages, the first named winning the first position in the cup competition and Henderson being second.

The Philadelphia's Club's averages in the Halifax Cup series were headed by P. N. LeRoy in both departments. With the bat he scored 285 runs and averaged over 25, and secured 32 wickets at an average cost of 13.72. Three other bowlers ran very close to him, however, E. Norris, H. R. Cartwright, Jr., and H. W. Goodall having averages of 14 or 15 for each wicket taken. J. H. Mason was the second on the batting list with a 20 average, but the rest only did fairly well, although most of the team got double figures.

R. O. Sheridan headed the club's batsmen in the Philadelphia Cup contest and C. B. Dixon was second, both men averaging over 20. The latter also bowled well, getting 17 wickets at a cost of 327 runs, but in this department Montgomery Harris easily excelled as his 28 wickets were captured at a cost of 11 runs apiece.

For Moorestown A. C. Wood was the best among the batters who qualified, his average being 21.75. E. Guest followed with 16.40 and Smith was third with 15.70. The latter bore the brunt of the bowling, taking over 50 wickets at an average of 12 runs each, but C. B. Wallace was ahead of him, with 11 wickets at an average of 10.

Frankford had several good willow-wielders in the team and four of them got averages of over 20. A. C. Garrett was first, his figures reading 27.20, followed by R. W. Hilles, W. W. Foulkrod, Jr., and W. S. Evans. Garrett was also one of the five men who scored a century in the series. S. H. Hart finished first in bowling, followed by A. G. Singer.

Radnor captured the individual batting honors for the Philadelphia

TOM HAYWARD BOWLING A LEG BREAK DELIVERY.

Cup in the person of H. S. Christman, who batted well throughout the season, four times passing the "half-century" mark and winding up with an average of 38.45, C. H. Howson ran him a close second, however, with an average of 36.16 and an aggregate of 434 runs. E. H. Hanson had an average of 20 with a high score of 110. The bowling was a nip and tuck struggle between E. J. Wendell and M. McKnight, each averaging 16 runs a wicket.

The Haddonfield Club won 8 games out of 15 in the Philadelphia Cup competition, J. C. Remington, Jr. and H. Furness proving the best batters with figures of over 20, while S. A. Willits was far and away the best bowler, capturing the unusually large number of 68 wickets at an average cost of 7 runs each.

New York and Vicinity

The season of 1906 was a highly successful one for cricketers in the Metropolitan District, and, although no international games were played, as in 1905, the closeness of the competition in the series of the Metropolitan District Cricket League was sufficient to maintain interest all through the summer. The nearest approach to an international fixture was the game between the New York eleven and the Corinthians of London, who were touring the country playing Association foot ball. Several of the members of the team were almost as well known in Cricket circles as in the foot ball world, and their defeat at Staten Island by over one hundred runs margin was indicative of the improved playing recently shown around New York. A. G. Laurie accomplished a remarkable bowling feat in taking 9 wickets for 61 runs, included in which was the performance of the "bat trick," while C. P. Hurditch ran up 68 with the bat in first class style and led the batsmen.

Another contest that excited more than usual interest was the New York and Philadelphia game played at Staten Island on July 19 and won by the visitors by 26 runs on the first innings. By disposing of the strong Quaker eleven for 68 runs the outlook for victory by New York seemed very promising, but unfortunately the batting was weak, and a total of 42 runs was all the local men could roll up. The features of the game were the bowling of H. Rushton and J. A. Lester for their respective sides, the former dismissing six batsmen in sixty three balls for only 21 runs, while Lester did even better and obtained 6 wickets at a cost of 19 runs.

A week's tour by Boston's cricketers furnished some good games and were heartily enjoyed by the participants on both sides. The visitors easily vanquished Kings County and Paterson, won against Staten Island by 16 runs, but sustained defeat at the hands of Brooklyn by 4 runs in an exciting finish.

In the championship series of the Metropolitan League the games were more closely contested than for several years. While the pennant remained with the Staten Island club, who were the champions of 1905, the result of the competition was not definitely known until the last few games of the year, and the Brooklyn and Paterson clubs contested every inch of the way.

The leading batsman of the year was J. L. Poyer of Brooklyn, who again showed his versatility by not only coming out first in the batting but by performing several splendid feats with the ball. His aggregate of 596 runs made in the series has never been equalled, the nearest approach being 555, made by C. P. Hurditch in 1904. He had the added distinction of contributing the only century made in the series and followed this up by scoring 50 or more seven times. M. R. Cobb of Staten Island came second in batting with an average of 40, made in eleven innings, and D. G. Humble of the same club was third with an average of 29.

C. H. Clarke of Staten Island finished first in the bowling competition, and although doing little trundling in the early games, ended with an average of 4 runs for 24 wickets captured. He just managed to qualify for the 300 balls necessary in the last game of the season, thereby taking away the honors from F. F. Kelly of the same club, who had bowled right through the season and had taken 40 wickets at an average cost of 5 runs each. H. Rushton of Brooklyn was third, with 42 wickets at an average of 6 runs per wicket. Three times during the season the remarkable feat known as the "hat trick" was performed by league bowlers—Clarke, Kelly and C. E. Blades of Brooklyn gaining the enviable distinction. The best bowling performance of the year was possibly done by W. Bunce of Paterson in capturing 6 wickets without a run being scored off him. W. B. Seale had the distinction of playing the most number of innings, 14 in all.

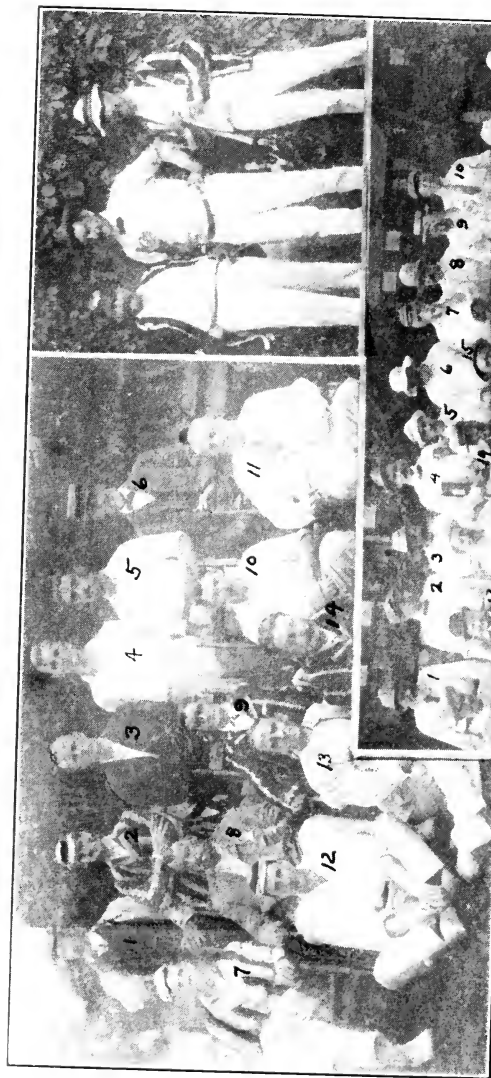

The champions scored 8 victories out of 12 games played, drawing twice against Brooklyn Team A and once each against Manhattan and Paterson. The fine record made by the team was made possible by the all-around excellence of Cobb, Kelly and Clarke. Cobb was easily first in batting and finished fifth in the bowling. Kelly stood second in bowling and had an average of 19 with the bat, while Clarke was first with the ball and finished with a double figure average with the bat. The improved form shown by D. G. Humble in batting was one of the features of the season. He scored an aggregate of 234 runs with a high score of 60 not out. C. H. E. Griffith, P. E. Bousfield, C. P. Hurditch, R. W. R. Powell and Archie Gunn did consistent batting throughout and had averages ranging from 18 down to 12. Hurditch also excelled as a wicket keeper and his success behind the stumps was a factor in many games.

The Brooklyn club entered two teams in the league series and came out fairly well in the competition. Team A tied with Paterson for second place, winning 8 games out of 12 and losing 2. But for the poor policy of sending teams not fully representing the club in strength it is possible that they would have gone through the season without defeat. Poyer, of course, distanced all his fellow players in his wonderful batting performance. Only once in the series did he fail to get in double figures, while in bowling he was steady and resourceful and always to be depended on. W. F. Jackson had an average of 21 for 8 completed innings and started off well with a fine score of 88 in the first game. C. E. Blades, who participated in only five games during the latter part of the season, had an average of over 20 and captured 17 wickets at an average of 8 runs apiece. E. Greenidge, H. Allen, J. H. Tattersall and G. Macpherson had double figure averages, and H. Rushton had the best figures with the ball. Team B won 4 games and lost 6, and the all-round work of A. Lovell, O. Smith, H. Poyer and A. Corbin was in evidence in all the games played. Had the team possessed better bowling talent a much higher position would have been attained.

Paterson lost two games, being defeated once by Brooklyn A and once by Staten Island. Up to the end of August they had not suffered defeat and their good position was due nearly altogether to the work of H. Smith, J. W. Hooper, W. Bunce and W. Dodds with ball and bat. The first named took 21 wickets at an average cost of 8 runs; Hooper secured 20 wickets and averaged 16 with the bat; Bunce totaled 160 runs in 10 innings and took 18 wickets for 6 runs each, while Dodds captured 10 wickets and had an average of 13 at batting.

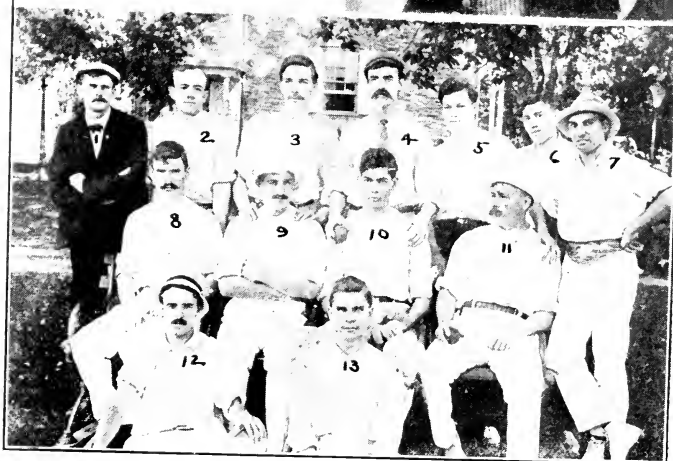

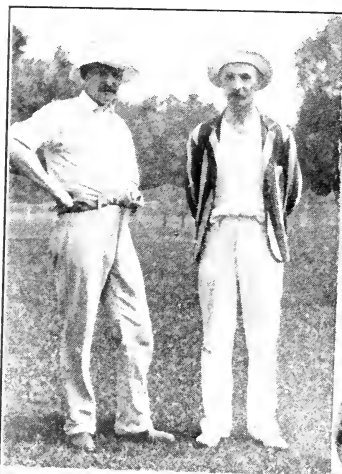

The Kings County team did fairly well in getting four victories out of twelve games played. The great fault of the team was again shown in the weak bowling. G. W. Barnes led the bowlers and had exceptionally good figures, while J. S. Mahon, E. B. Reece and J. D. MacLennan all averaged over 10 runs a wicket. Mahon was first in batting, with an average of nearly 20 runs, while consistent work with the bat was shown by J. P. Stuart, Reece and E. J. Atwood.

Montclair played its first season under the auspices of the league and did as well as could be expected under the circumstances. Bowling was the weak point, the best average being credited to A. E. Whitehouse, with 25 wickets for 297 runs. R. Turner and J. W. Bartlett proved very expensive, the former's wickets costing 19 runs each and the latter's being secured at a cost of 21 runs apiece. The last named did the best batting, scoring 113 runs with an average of 14.

The Manhattan record was rather disappointing, two victories and nine defeats hardly showing the team's work. J. Backus led the batsmen with an average of 24; F. A. Slade, A. Smedley and F. J. Prendergast had averages of about 10 runs each, while A. Cleaver did the best bowling work with 14 wickets at a cost of 11 runs each. W. Adam, Smedley and R. J. Danby had averages in bowling of 14, 16 and 31 respectively.

In Section B of the league series Kings County won the pennant. This result was due to the splendid work of B. Wimpenny, E. J. Williams, H. J. Williams and A. Nugent with the bat, and the fine bowling of T. H. Clarke and G. Gautier. Clarke was the premier bowler in the section, capturing 19 wickets at an average of 6 runs a wicket, while Gautier followed with 43 wickets at an average of 7.

The Bound Brook's good position in the race was due to the batting of F. J. Prendergast and C. Smith. Prendergast scored the only century made in the competition and finished with an average of 58 runs, while Smith's average was 21. Paterson's leading batsman was J. Nicol, who averaged 16, and J. Robertson proved to be the best bowler, closely followed by A. G. Rainbow.

Team C of Brooklyn was sadly deficient in bowling, although J. B. Barrow did exceptionally well by taking 15 wickets for 119 runs. W. P. Charles was by far the best batsman and his average was 13.

The Manhattan team had a quartet of good bowlers in W. S. Patmore, G. E. Bradshaw, J. Dixon and E. E. Gittens, while in batting A. J. Gray, Gittens, E. Stevens, Dixon and J. M. McGuffie came out with best figures.

Two teams in the New York Cricket Association went through the season without defeat, and consequently Columbia Oval and the West Indians may both lay claim to the championship. Columbia Oval had two more victories in their string than their rivals, who had the unusually large number of six drawn battles out of 14 played. The predominating elements of success in the two leading clubs were the batting of the Columbias and the bowling of the colored players. Three batsmen of the former eleven headed the association averages, while a West Indian captured the bowling prize and another one was placed third. Remarkable, indeed, was the success that attended B. Kortlang's stay at the wickets. Finishing with the big average of 73.60 he compiled 368 runs and topped the century once, when playing against Essex County. On this occasion a new record for the association was created, for in addition to Kortlang's big score, S. Deane also passed the three figure mark. Deane was second in the averages with the good record of 47.66, followed by his brother, A. Deane, who averaged 33.37 with a high score of 81. The three players mentioned practically did all the batting, only one other man, D. G. Birkett, appearing with figures over 10. Birkett also shone as a bowler with 30 wickets taken at a five average, but N. Curtis had the superior figures, 36 wickets at a cost of 4.86.

S. Alleyne of the West Indians led the bowlers by a slight margin over the runner-up and was a great help to his side throughout the season. Bowling over five hundred balls he secured 41 wickets at the small cost of 4 runs a wicket. H. S. Alexander had almost as good a record with 28 wickets, costing four and a half runs apiece. To these two adepts with the ball the West Indians owe their prominent position in the race, as the leading man in the batting list for the team had an average of less than 25. J. Harney was first, followed by C. Armstrong within the twenty column, while Alleyne and Alexander proved themselves all-round players by both scoring over 150 runs in the series. E. Straker and A. F. Harding were the other double figure men on the side.

Union County finished in third position owing to their habit of disposing of their opponents for relatively low scores. E. F. Goddard and D. A. Gibson bore the brunt of the bowling, which was always of a high standard of effectiveness, the former getting 29 wickets for 5.20 each, and the latter capturing 3 wickets more than his fellow player, but at a cost of over another additional run. But two batsmen figure with averages of 10, J. Leach reaching 17.83 and A. H. Gibson with 10.77.

Five men appear in the batting and bowling list for the O. N. T. club. H. W. Smith scored 114 runs in 5 innings and led the batters with an average of 28, followed by L. Brierley with 11.42. A. Rice was third with an average of exactly 11, but with the ball he almost managed to capture the association bowling prize, securing 24 wickets at a cost of only 4.20 each. T. Kenyon also bowled well.

Yonkers wound up with 7 victories and an equal number of defeats, thereby attaining the fifth position in the race. A. R. Smith, by his splendid work in both departments, made this result possible. He had a batting average of 17 and was first among the bowlers on the team with an average of a little over 5 for 41 wickets. S. A. Low ran him very close with the ball with figures of 5.59 while J. Critchlow held the record for the season by sending down over 700 balls, but his wickets were obtained at the expense of 10 runs each.

Two victories each out of 14 games played were the net results of the Newark, Thistles and Essex County appearance in the association battle. This was hardly a satisfactory showing, but individually T. Gilbert and R. Barron for Essex County, S. Livingston for Newark, and V. Nairn and J. McD. Johnstone for the Thistles, showed good form with the willow, while W. Such, R. O. Waithe and R. Torrance were the best bowlers for their respective sides with averages ranging from 7 to 11 for every wicket taken.

The Cameron club won the pennant in the second section. E. Odum of the West Indians turned out to be the best run-getter, while H. Lomer of the Camerons excelled in the specialty of capturing wickets. Other good records in the section were made by G. Stedman, A. Kelsick, G. Bell, C. Spence, G. Shaw and J. L. Webster. A noteworthy performance by A. Gage occurred during the season, as bowling for West Indians against Chadwick he accomplished the phenomenal task of taking 9 wickets without a run being scored off his delivery, thereby smashing all records for New York and vicinity. The interstate game between the Association and the Connecticut State League resulted in a rather easy victory for New York by an innings, with 83 runs to spare.

Cricket in New England

In New England the formation of several leagues or associations have helped very materially to keep Cricket in an exceptionally promising position. The Massachusetts State League has an even dozen clubs enrolled in its membership; the Inter-state League has about half as many; the Fall River and New Bedford District Amateur League has seven flourishing clubs playing the game under its auspices, while a large number of players are under control of the St. George's League of Massachusetts.

The Mohair club won the championship in the Massachusetts State League with a record of 16 victories and 2 defeats. When it is considered that 21 or 22 games are pulled off in the competition it will be seen that the season is pretty well filled up with league fixtures. H. N. Mosley was the leading batsman for the club with an average of 29 and a high score of 82 not out. Quite a gap existed in the batting figures of the next man in line, who was I. Shaw with an average of 12.91. J. Priestley and D. Hird ran very close together with averages of 11.50 and 11.40 respectively, but the team as a whole cannot be considered a strong batting aggregation. Mosley was also the leader with the sphere, taking 75 wickets at a cost of between 5 and 6 runs a wicket, and to his admirable qualities as an all-round player the club undoubtedly owes its commanding position. Shaw was also to be depended on with the ball, his record being very nearly as good as Mosley's.

The Everett club had an exciting tussle with Mohair for supremacy, losing only 2 contests, but having 5 drawn games to contend with. They possessed the champion batsman of the league in W. T. Thorp, and his average of 57.50 was so much ahead of the others as to indicate marked superiority in run getting. With 56 not out as his highest score he was enabled to get his big average by playing seven not out innings, but consistent batting is evident in the figures. J. Murray followed with an aggregate of 457 runs and an average of over 22. His total runs was the highest obtained in the competition. Bold was the only other player to obtain double figures with the bat, but he did a lot of work with the ball, leading the club with 63 wickets at a cost of 5.86 each. Marriott was next in line with 21 wickets taken at an average of between 6 and 7 runs a wicket.

The West Indians were enabled to finish third owing to the splendid bowling qualities possessed by W. Isaacs and E. Burke, who ran almost a dead heat for the bowling prize of the league, which was decided by the minutest fraction. Isaacs won out by an average of 3.966, while Burke's percentage worked out 3.969. Had there been any batting strength to help out this formidable pair of trundlers there is hardly any question but that the West Indians would have proven very dangerous opponents.

Highlandville occupied fourth place with 10 victories and 9 defeats for which thanks are primarily due to K. S. Holden and Warren, both of whom had fairly good records. The Boston club wound up the season with an equal number of wins and losses and considering the good form displayed by several of the members it is rather surprising not to find them better than fifth in the league standing. The best batting on the side was done by Robin Hood, who averaged 15 runs for 21 innings and batted with much skill and judgment. R. Fairburn and J. Keene accomplished wonders in either department, the former's batting figures being 12 and his bowling costing 6 runs for each of the 70 wickets captured, while Keene secured 64 wickets for 366 runs and averaged 11 in batting in 16 innings. Their value to the team can hardly be overestimated. Haslam was also successful with the leather.

The Lynn Wanderers tied with Boston in percentage. C. Page, while not playing with the team for the whole season, was always to be depended upon for a good score, and E. Bennett, during 18 innings ran up a total of 200 runs altogether and was uniformly dangerous in finding his way to the stumps. S. Bennett has fairly good records in both batting and bowling, and J. Young secured nearly 50 wickets at a cost of a fraction under 6 runs a wicket.

The U. S. Bunting club's string of 21 games was divided equally in the won, lost and drawn column. They were rather unfortunate in the drawn games, most of which were considerably in their favor. They possess some promising young players in Herbert Rowley and W. Marshall, both displaying excellent form with the bat. G. Hamblin also did well and made one score of over 50. The Buntings had a quartet of good bowlers in N. Watson, H. Rudden, M. Greenwood and Hamblin, all of whom were to be depended on to play havoc in the camps of their opponents.

J. Gill, J. Walker and J. Nade were practically tied in the bowling figures for the Lawrence club and had they received any support in batting the club would doubtless have stood higher up in the league series. For Merrimack, J. Ogden averaged over 18 and Chadwick just reached the double figures, but the bowling proved to be of rather a weak nature. W. L. Martin played careful Cricket and averaged 17 for the Chelsea club, while W. J. Richards was good with both bat and ball. Dally also had creditable figures. The best work accomplished for Brockton was done by J. Taylor and Luckman, while S. Devlin, Dodd and Mitchell worked hard for the East Boston team, which finished last in the competition.

The past season for the Fall River and New Bedford District League was a success both from the view-point of the skill with which the games were played and the financial condition of the seven clubs represented. As has been the case in the past few years, the honors have fallen to the New Bedford clubs, the New Bedford club standing at the head of the league with a record of 8 victories, no defeats and 4 drawn battles. The Washington and Brooklawn clubs were tied for second place, one point behind the leaders. By this record the New Bedford club takes both cups, the League cup and the Boardman cup offered for the best local team.

The honor of having the highest batting average this year goes to J. Eccleston of the Washington team, with an average of 25.78, as compared to 19.22, the highest batting average of the season of 1905, made by A. Bradshaw of the Washington team. Second place this year goes to Saunders of the New Bedford club with an even 25. Captain Woolfenden of the Brooklawns was third with 22.62 to his credit. Fall River, Bay View, New Bedford North End and the Fall River North End teams furnished the next best batsman in the order named.

Saunders heads the list with the best bowling average, easily defeating the record made last year by M. Tonge of the Bay Views. His figures were much in advance of the next man, W. Ellinson of the Washington team, who averaged 3.31. J. H. Wood of Fall River finished in third place, while W. Craven of Bay View captured fourth position. The Brooklawns, the New Bedford North Ends or the Fall River North Ends failed to have a bowler qualify, the rules being that a bowler must take 30 wickets and bat in 50 per cent. of the games.

FITCHBURG CRICKET CLUB.

WEST INDIA C C

Boston, Mass.

The West India Cricket Club of Boston enjoyed a large measure of success during the Cricket season of 1906. Of 22 games played 11 were won, 8 lost and 3 drawn. The club's position was third in the Massachusetts State Cricket League. This success was due largely to the fine bowling of W. Isaac and Edmund Burke, the former winning the league's bowling trophy with the splendid average of 3.95, while the latter was a close second, with an average of 3.96. These two trundlers were ably assisted on the field by the brilliant work of J. Skeete at cover point, C. Winter at point and R. Isaac in the slips. In the batting averages Edmund Burke leads, but J. Peters claims the highest individual score made in any game. The following table gives the batting and bowling averages of each player:

1 J. Springer; 2. W. Isaac; 3. Vilain; 4. Winter; 5. G. Springer; 6. Worrell.
7. Burke; 8. C. Peters; 9. R. Isaac; 10. Sandiford; 11. Buzzelle; 12. Downs.

LORRAINE-TEXTILE C. C.

Providence, R. I.

Games played, 13; won, 5; lost, 6; drawn, 2.

The Lorraine Textile eleven did not have a very successful season, the records showing the team was rather weak in batting and bowling.

SOUTH PROVIDENCE C. C.

Providence, R. I.

President, E. Cordin; Vice-President, F. R. Smith; Treasurer, J. T. Poole; Corresponding Secretary, E. E. Cross; Financial Secretary, W. E. Eaton; Captain, T. Seymour.

Games played, 17, won, 9; lost, 6; drawn, 2.

The batting honors were carried off by Capt. Seymour, who was closely followed by A. Felton and J. T. Poole. The best bowling average was made by J. Charwood, with E. Cordin second on the list.

CHELSEA C. C.

Chelsea, Mass.

After heading the Junior League for three successive years, the Chelsea club made their entrance into first-class league Cricket, and while not doing anything very spectacular, had a fairly successful season. The first game resulted in a drawn battle in favor of the local club, while the next three games were all won in a decisive manner. Captain Walter L. Martin played seven not out innings, and although his average stood 72.50 after the ninth match, he was unable to keep up the excellent batting and finished with an average of 17. W. J. Richards played 18 innings and wound up with a double-figure average. He was also the most successful bowler, taking 63 wickets for 521 runs, while W. E. Dalby secured 46 wickets for 281 runs.

FITCHBURG C. C.

Fitchburg, Mass.

The club had a very successful season, both in a sporting and financial way, winning a large majority of the games played, but being unfortunate enough to lose the Nicholson Cup after playing a tie with the Maynard club for its possession. Schofield carried off the batting average and the veteran Richardson was again to the fore with the ball and captured the bowling prize. He was closely followed by Asquith, who has now bowled regularly for twenty years with the Fitchburg club. The outlook for the coming season is very bright.

Miscellaneous Cricket Notes

SCHENECTADY C. C.

Schenectady, N. Y.

President, A. S. Durrant; Secretary and Treasurer, F. Ruby; Captain, F. Ruby; vice Captain, E. J. Down

The season of 1906 as far as the Schenectady C.C. was concerned was a fair one in every respect. Enthusiasm among its members ran high, and at the end of the summer the record stood: Games played, 12; won, 6; lost, 5; drawn, 1. Taking all matters into consideration this must not be looked upon as a bad performance. As usual there were a good many changes in the make-up of the eleven compared with 1905 owing to removals from the city, but altogether the club numbered 55 active members, a slight increase compared with the previous season. Arnold S. Durrant made an efficient President, and Frederick Ruby was elected to a trinity of offices, viz., Captain-Secretary-Treasurer. Particularly active was the President in the matter of the formation of the Mohawk Valley Cricket League and it is safe to say that but for his persistent efforts this organization would not have been brought into existence. It was hoped at one time that Utica would enter into the competition, but owing to the distance from the other clubs the officials of that organization dropped out, and in the end the Schenectady, Amsterdam, and Gloversville-Johnstown clubs battled for a handsome pennant. After a keen season's Cricket it was found that Schenectady and Gloversville-Johnstown clubs were tied as to points scored, and in the play-off the Schenectady men, after a hard fought game, had to acknowledge defeat. In addition to taking part in the Mohawk Valley League games Schenectady twice met North Adams (Mass.), and on the Fourth of July vanquished a team from the Brooklyn club. The prospects for a good season during 1907 are, however, particularly bright. After a trip to New Zealand W. A. Reece is back again; E. J. Gregson, who did so well for Cornell last year, has taken up his residence in the town, and Henry Allen, who last year played for Brooklyn, has come back to Schenectady and hopes to assist the club during the ensuing year. In addition A. S. Durrant will be prominent in club matches, and other well-known members such as F. Ruby, F. J. Hack, Rev. Dr. Tayler, F. Stuart, G. D. Ross, J. C. Close, Charles Langley, C. D. Friedeberg, L. L. Howard, C. W. Jefferson and W. A. McTaggart, will rally round the captain and try to make the season a memorable one.

Interviewed as to what he thought the prospects of the Mohawk Valley League were for the coming season, President Durrant said: "It is too early yet to express a definite opinion as to what we shall accomplish in the way of improving Cricket in this section. After the various clubs have held their annual meetings, then we shall be able to get a line on to what is likely to be accomplished. I am particularly pleased with what was done last year. I am sorry Utica could not see their way to join us and that other clubs did not come in, but the matches played were of an enjoyable character and calculated to stimulate Cricket interest in this section of the State. Now we have made a start there must be no lack of interest, and I shall do my best to keep the league a potent factor in Cricket circles in this part of the State. Perseverance in this respect will bring its own reward."

Ilion, N. Y.

President J. Calder; Vice-Presidents E. H. Berry, F. W. Aicheler; Treasurer A. B. Grout; Secretary, G. E. Oliver; Captain, R. Poole; Trustees, E. McCoy, J. Eagau, T. Schesch, J. Montgomery, J. Lucas, A. Jarvis.

Games played, 4; won, 3; lost, 1.

But few games were played by the Remington Typewriter Cricket Club, as organizing late in 1905, this year was their first season. The matches of 1906 were with clubs of experience, and the fact that the local club won three out of four of them, presages well for the well-being of the club in the future. The first game against Utica, was lost by 48 runs, but on the second encounter with the same club, a handsome victory by the margin of 54 runs rewarded the efforts of the Ilion members. Two games against the Clarke Mills club resulted in close and exciting finishes, the first being won by 4 runs and the second also going to the locals by the slight margin of 6 runs.

During the winter indoor practice consisting of bowling and batting has been indulged in constantly and will be continued until the season of 1907 commences, by which time the club expects to be in a position to meet all comers with confidence.

JOHN G. CAMPBELL
Wanderers Cricket Club, Chicago

Cricket in Canada

The game in the Dominion of Canada enjoyed an extensive popularity in 1906 and the crowds of spectators at every important match testified to their appreciation of the improved standard of play in a most decisive manner. Of course the centers of attraction were Toronto, Montreal and Quebec, but the sport is carried on with enthusiasm in many other less important cities and new clubs are constantly springing up.

The Toronto club, with its large membership, had, as usual, an extensive season. The batting honors were easily taken by D. W. Saunders, who played in capital form throughout and made an aggregate of 410 runs in the 11 innings in which he participated. He rounded up the season with the big average of 58.57 and on one occasion passed the three-figure mark in an innings of 109. J. Woods played consistently and, while making no big scores, finished with an average of 22. Another batsman to reach the twenty average was R. C. Reade, who had 42 not out as his highest effort in 15 innings. He was closely followed by S. W. Mossman, who rolled up 408 runs and came within striking distance of the century in one contest. A. E. Ferrie played excellent Cricket and averaged 18, which mark was almost reached by J. Gillespie. The other players who had a double figure average were: V. W. Wright, H. F. Lounsboro, J. L. Hynes, D. Mustard, W. S. Greening, C. S. Powell and B. D. Saunders. The bowling was entrusted almost entirely to L. J. Sheather and S. W. Mossman, who ran neck and neck, each obtaining really splendid figures.

The Mimico Asylum club played 19 matches, of which 16 resulted in victories and 3 were lost—a fine record. The team reached a level of all-round efficiency, eight men getting into double figures, while all the bowlers performed creditably. F. C. Evans headed the batsmen with the good average of 35.52, compiled in 18 innings, and his value to the team can readily be seen. F. W. Terry was not far behind with the big total of 699 runs made in 22 innings and an average of 31.77. V. Whitaker played in 20 innings and averaged 26 for each stay at the wickets. To these three men in particular the excellent record of the club may be ascribed. Each became a "century plant" during the season, Terry leading with 125 as his highest score, Whitaker obtaining 124, and Evans getting 123 as his top figures. Other noticeably good records in batting were made by R. Walmsley, R. Maxwell, S. Doddridge, A. A. Beemer and Dr. W. Wright, and, peculiarly enough, all but the last named were prominent with the ball and made their presence felt on many occasions. The total runs scored by the Mimico team in all matches was 3,151 for the loss of 198 wickets—a grand team average of between 15 and 16.

The Montreal Cricket Club had a very successful season. The energetic club secretary in his report summarizes as follows:

"In all we played 16 matches, winning 9 and losing 7, making an average of 56 per cent. Although unable to beat Ottawa, and McGill defeating us in two out of three games, still our victories were most decisive. Our best performances were against Westmount, McGill, Longueuil, Boston Zingari and Point St. Charles. Our worst beating was when McGill defeated us by 70 runs. We were most fortunate in having H. J. Heygate to play for us, as undoubtedly he is one of the best bats Montreal has had in many a long day, and we shall all look forward to seeing him play fine Cricket in 1907. C. B. Godwin again proved a most useful bowler. We were handicapped by the absence in England of the Rev. H. P. Plumtre, whose record in former years speaks for itself. He only played in one match, and showed that he had not lost his form, by making 50. Also our captain, G. Ferrabee, had the misfortune to injure his foot early in the season, which practically barred him from bowling in most of the games."

The Quebec Cricket Club had a fairly good season and while nothing sensational was accomplished, the batting and bowling figures of several members are deserving of special mention. The Rev. H. R. Bigg was first with the bat, his average of 22.62 for 11 innings showing marked ability as a run-getter. A. C. Smith, although playing 4 innings and thereby failing to qualify, had an average of 15, while A. S. Macintyre and T. Argall both had double figure averages at the end of the season. The best bowling on the team was done by A. Rawland, who was very effective, and captured 27 wickets at an average cost of 5.51. Mr. Bigg was also in good form with the ball, securing 21 wickets for 149 runs, averaging 7.

Secretary-Treasurer W. Morton Massey has this to say of the Montmorency Cricket Club:

"The season was perhaps the most successful one a new club ever had, the record of 12 matches played and only one lost, being something to be proud of. A remarkable feature of the season, and one which probably escaped the notice of the majority of our members, was that the lowest completed innings of the team in a foreign match was 82 against H.M.S. Dominion, which shows that our team could always be depended upon with the bat. The highest total was 162 against Mr. John Thomson's team, which included several first-class players in its composition. None of our opponents succeeded in scoring a total of 100 runs in an innings, and no individual player made 50 against us, while our batsmen on several occasions reached the half-century mark. The lowest total for a completed innings was 26, when we dismissed a strong team from H.M.S. Dominion in their second innings and won a hard game rather unexpectedly. The bowling department was dependent on four men, and was of a sufficient variety to keep down heavy scoring; the fielding was very good—particularly behind the wickets—except on one occasion, and that exception cost us the match."

The Ottawa club emerged victorious in five games out of the seven played. The team as a whole was strong in batting, no less than eight men coming out with double figure averages, and the record of two of these was particularly good. H. Ackland averaged 25.75 and ran up 61 in one match, while F. L. C. Pereira coralled 71 as his high effort and averaged 23. R. B. Farrell, A. W. Powell, M. G. Bristow, R. S. Raby and V. H. Steele all did good work with the bat, and Bristow and W. Johnston performed acceptably with the ball, averaging 8 runs a wicket.

The Season in England

The year 1906 was, taken as a whole, favorable to every kind of sport in England. An open winter was followed by a spring and summer of exceptionally favorable weather, so that games could be played under the best conditions. This particularly applies to the national game of Cricket, and as a result the percentage of drawn matches was reduced materially, only 43 out of the 172 county contests being left unfinished. There were other factors beside the weather, artificially prepared wickets being fewer in number, and "stonewall" tactics having been to a great extent abandoned by batsmen. The wicket was, owing to these causes, much brighter than in previous years, and the public patronage considerably increased.

In the absence of an Australian visit, interest centered in the County championship, and so keen was the struggle between Kent, Yorkshire, and Surrey, that it was not till the last week of the competition that Kent was able to claim the premier honors, this being the first time that the hop county has carried them off. Thus the championship went South again, Middlesex having held it in 1903, previous to which year Surrey had been the only Southern county to win it. Kent thoroughly deserved their victory. Out of their 22 matches, they won 16 and were only twice defeated. Yorkshire ran second, with 18 wins and 3 losses out of 28 matches played, and but for their defeat by Gloucestershire at Bristol by only one run they would have been first. To lose the championship by a single run is a record of ill luck. Kent's success was principally due to the fast bowling of Fielder, who took 158 wickets for his county at a cost of less than 20 runs apiece. He was ably helped by Blythe, Woolley, Mason and Fairservice. Of the Kent batsmen, C. J. Burnup had the wonderful average of 69.75 for 19 innings, whilst the young Tonbridge amateur, K. L. Hutchings, was close up with 64.66 for 25 innings. E. W. Dillon, J. R. Mason and R. N. R. Blaker all had an average of over 40 for an innings.

Although Yorkshire did so well it was quite apparent that the side was not quite so good as that which carried off the championship in 1905. F. S. Jackson could play only in a couple of matches, and had it not been for the wonderful batting and bowling of George Hirst, the county would have cut a sorry figure. Over and over again Hirst came to the rescue, and scored 1,771 runs in county matches, with an average of 43.19; moreover, he scored centuries against Kent, Warwickshire, Sussex and Somerset. Against the last named, at Bath in August, he made a century in both innings. His chief assistant in the scoring department was David Denton, who also made a double century at Trent Bridge, Nottingham, in June. In bowling, Yorkshire were weaker, owing to Rhodes being less effective on the dry pitches, but these did not trouble Hirst, for he secured 182 wickets, at an average cost of 14.84. Certainly Hirst earned the title of the best all-round cricketer of the year, and he has probably never been excelled, even by the late George Lohmann.

Although at one time Surrey looked to have a great chance of carrying off the championship, the side went stale in August, and three defeats in succession, by Kent, Yorkshire and Lancashire, put them out of the running, and they finished third. They, however, won more matches than any other county, having 18 wins out of 28 games to their credit, with four losses. For this excellent showing they have to thank Thomas Hayward, who had his most successful year as a batsman. He scored 3,518 runs, with an average of 66.37 for 61 innings. This aggregate is a record, as it exceeds the previous best of 3,309 made by Robert Abel in 1901. For his county, Hayward totaled 2,814, and averaged 70.35 for 47 innings. In Whit-week he made four successive centuries against Notts and Leicestershire, and altogether in the season he compiled 13 innings of over a hundred, a feat only once before performed, viz., by C. B. Fry in 1901. Mention of the Sussex batsmen reminds one that owing to an injury to his leg Fry was unable to assist his county during the greater part of the season.

Other notable features of the Cricket of 1906 may be recorded briefly. Tyldesley, of Lancashire, played the highest innings of his career, scoring 295 not out against Kent at Manchester. W. G. Grace celebrated his 58th birthday by hitting 74 for the Gentlemen against the Players at Kennington Oval. Leicestershire made the highest total of the year, 701 for 4 wickets (declared) against Worcestershire at Worcester. The aggregate of that match was 1,425 runs for 16 wickets, also the highest of the season. The lowest total was Worcestershire's 25 against Yorkshire at Hull. In addition to Hirst, J. N. Crawford, G. J. Thompson, John Gunn, A. E. Relf and Rhodes performed the double feat of making 1,000 runs and taking over 100 wickets. Twenty-two batsmen, headed by C. J. Burnup, obtained an average of over 40. Huddleston headed the bowling averages, having taken 50 wickets at a cost of 12.26 runs apiece. Cambridge defeated Oxford at Lords by 94 runs and Eton defeated Harrow after a fine struggle by 4 wickets. A team of West Indian cricketers toured in England, but though fairly successful, were not up to county form.

The method of scoring was as follows: "Three points shall be scored for a win; should the match be not completed, the side leading on the first innings shall score two points. In the event of a drawn game in which play has taken place on both sides, each side shall score one point. Should a completed match end in a tie, each side shall score $1\frac{1}{2}$ points, and should an unfinished match result in a tie on the first innings, each side shall score a point. Games abandoned without a ball being bowled are ignored."

METHOD OF RECKONING IN COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP MATCHES.

1875 to 1886.—The smallest number of lost matches decided the order of merit

1887 to 1889.—A win counted one point, a draw one-half point.

1890 to 1904.—Losses were deducted from wins, drawn games being ignored.

1895 to date.—One point counted for each win; one deducted for each loss; unfinished games ignored. Championship decided by the greatest proportionate number of points in finished games.

ALL UNIVERSITY MATCHES.

THE LAWS OF CRICKET.

AS AMENDED BY THE MARYLEBONE CLUB.

1. A match is played between two sides of eleven players each, unless otherwise agreed to ; each side has two innings, taken alternately, except in the case provided for in Law 53. The choice of innings shall be decided by tossing.

2. The score shall be reckoned by runs. A run is scored :—

1st. So often as the batsmen, after a hit, or at any time while the ball is in play, shall have crossed, and made good their ground, from end to end.

2nd. For penalties under law 16, 34, 41, and allowances under 44.

Any run or runs so scored shall be duly recorded by scorers appointed for the purpose. The side which scores the greatest number of runs wins the match. No match is won unless played out or given up except in the case provided for in Law 45.

3. Before the commencement of the match, two umpires shall be appointed : one for each end.

4. The Ball shall weigh not less than five ounces and a half, nor more than five ounces and three-quarters. It shall measure not less than nine inches, nor more than nine inches and one quarter in circumference. At the beginning of each innings, either side may demand a new ball.

5. The Bat shall not exceed four inches and one-quarter in the widest part ; it shall not be more than thirty-eight inches in length.

6. The Wickets shall be pitched opposite and parallel to each other at a distance of twenty-two yards. Each wicket shall be eight inches in width, and consist of three stumps, with two bails upon the top. The stumps shall be of equal and of sufficient size to prevent the ball from passing through, twenty-seven inches out of the ground. The bails shall be each four inches in length, and when in position, on the top of the stumps, shall not project more than half an inch above them. The wickets shall not be changed during a match, unless the ground between them becomes unfit for play, and then only by consent of both sides.

7. The Bowling Crease shall be in a line with the stumps; eight feet eight inches in length; the stumps in the centre with a return crease at each end, at right angles behind the wicket.

8. The Popping Crease shall be marked four feet from the wicket, parallel to it, and be deemed unlimited in length.

9. The ground shall not be rolled, watered, covered, mown, or beaten during a match, except before the commencement of each innings and of each day's play, when, unless the in-side object, the ground shall be swept and rolled for not more than ten minutes. This shall not prevent the batsman from beating the ground with his bat, nor the batsman nor bowler from using sawdust in order to obtain a proper foothold.

10. The ball must be bowled; if thrown or jerked, either umpire shall call "No ball."

11. The Bowler shall deliver the ball with one foot on the ground behind the bowling crease, and within the return crease, otherwise the umpire shall call "No Ball."

12. If the bowler shall bowl the ball so high over or so wide of the wicket that in the opinion of the umpire it is not within reach of the striker, the umpire shall call "Wide ball."

3. The ball shall be bowled in overs of six balls from each wicket alternately. When six balls have been bowled, and the play is finally settled in the bowler's or wicket-keeper's hands, the umpire shall call "Over." Neither a "no ball" nor "wide ball" shall be reckoned as one of the "over."
4. The bowler shall be allowed to change ends as often as he chooses, provided only that he does not bowl two overs consecutively in one innings.
5. The bowler may require the batsman at the wicket from which he is bowling to stand on that side of it which he may elect.
6. The striker may hit a "no ball," and whatever runs result shall be added to his score; but he shall not be out from a "no ball" unless he be run out or break Laws 26, 27, 29, 30. All runs scored from a "no ball" otherwise than from the bat, shall be scored "no balls," and if no run be made one run shall be added to that score. From a "wide ball" as many runs as are run shall be added to the score as "wide balls," and if no run be otherwise obtained, one run shall be so added.
7. If the ball, not having been called "wide" or "no ball," strikes the striker without touching his bat or person, and any runs are obtained, the umpire shall call "Bye"; but if the ball touches any part of the striker's person (hand excepted) and any runs are obtained, the umpire shall call "Leg Bye," such runs to be scored "byes" and "leg-byes" respectively.

18. At the beginning of each match, and of each innings, the umpire at the bowler's wicket shall call "Play"; from that time no trial ball shall be allowed to any bowler on the ground between the wickets, and when one of the batsmen is out the use of the bat shall not be allowed to any person until the next batsman shall come in.

19. A batsman shall be held to be "out of his ground" unless his bat in hand, or some part of his person, be grounded within the line of the popping crease.

20. The wicket shall be held to be "down" when either of the bails is struck off, or, if both bails be off, when a stump is struck out of the ground.

The Striker is out—

21. If the wicket be bowled down, even if the ball first touch the striker's bat or person :—"Bowled."

22. Or if the ball, from a stroke of the bat or hand, but not the wrist, be held before it touch the ground, although it be hugged to the body of the catcher :—"Caught."

23. Or, if in playing at the ball, provided it be not touched by the bat or hand, the striker be out of his ground, and the wicket be put down by the wicket-keeper with the ball, or with hand or arm with ball in hand :—"Stumped."

24. Or, if with part of his person he stop the ball, which in the opinion of the umpire at the bowler's wicket shall have been pitched in a straight line from it to the striker's wicket and would have hit it :—"Leg before wicket."

25. Or, if in playing at the ball, he hit down his wicket with his bat, or any part of his person or dress :—" Hit Wicket."

26. Or, if under pretence of running, or otherwise, either of the batsmen wilfully prevent a ball from being caught :—" Obstructing the Field."

27. Or, if the ball be struck or be stopped by any part of his person, and he wilfully strike it again, except it be done for the purpose of guarding his wicket, which he may do with his bat, or any part of his person except his hands :—" Hit the ball twice."

Either Batsman is out—

28. If in running, or at any other time, while the ball is in play, he be out of his ground, and his wicket be struck down by the ball after touching any fieldsman, or by the hand or arm, with the ball in hand, of any fieldsman :—" Run Out."

29. Or, if he touch with his hands or take up the ball while in play, unless at the request of the opposite side :—" Handled the ball."

30. Or, if he wilfully obstruct any fieldsman :—" Obstructing the field."

31. If the batsmen have crossed each other, he that runs for the wicket which is put down is out ; if they have not crossed, he that has left the wicket that has been put down is out.

32. The striker being caught, no run shall be scored. A batsman being run out that run which was being attempted shall not be scored.

33A. A batsman being out from any cause, the ball shall be "dead."

33B. If the ball, whether struck by the bat or not, lodges in a batsman's clothing, the ball shall become "dead."

34. If a ball in play cannot be found or recovered, any fieldman may call "Lost ball," when the ball shall be "dead" ; six runs shall be added to the score ; but if more than six runs have been run before "Lost ball" has been called, as many runs as have been run shall be scored.

35. After the ball shall have been finally settled in the wicket-keeper's or bowler's hand, it shall be "dead" ; but when the bowler is about to deliver the ball, if the batsman at his wicket be out of his ground before actual delivery, the said bowler may run him out ; but if the bowler throw at the wicket and any run result, it shall be scored "No ball."

36. A batsman shall not retire from his wicket and return to it to complete his innings after another has been in, without the consent of the opposite side.

57. A substitute shall be allowed to field or run between wickets for any player who may, during the match, be incapacitated from illness or injury, but for no other reason except with the consent of the opposite side.

38. In all cases where a substitute shall be allowed, the consent of the opposite side shall be obtained as to the person to act as substitute, and the place in the field which he shall take.

39. In case any substitute shall be allowed to run between wickets, the striker may be run out if either he or his substitute be out of his ground. If the striker be out of his ground while the ball is in play, that wicket which he has left may be put down and the striker given out, although the other batsman may have made good the ground at that end, and the striker and his substitute at the other end.

40. A batsman is liable to be out for any infringement of the laws by his substitute.

41. The fieldsman may stop the ball with any part of his person, but if he wilfully stop it otherwise, the ball shall be "dead" and five runs added to the score; whatever runs may have been made, five only shall be added.

42. The wicket-keeper shall stand behind the wicket. If he shall take the ball for the purpose of stumping before it has passed the wicket, or, if he shall incommode the striker by any pose, or motion, or if any part of his person be over or before the wicket, the striker shall not be out, excepting under Laws 26, 27, 28, 29, and 30.

43. The umpires are the sole judges of fair or unfair play, of the fitness of the ground, the weather, and the light for play; all disputes shall be determined by them, and if they disagree, the actual state of things shall continue.

44. They shall pitch fair wickets, arrange boundaries where necessary, and the allowances to be made for them, and change ends after each side has had one innings.

45. They shall allow two minutes for each striker to come in and ten minutes between each innings. When they shall call "Play," the side refusing to play shall lose the match.

46. They shall not order a batsman out unless appealed to by the other side.

47. The umpire at the bowler's wicket shall be appealed to before the other umpire in all cases except in those of stumping, hit wicket, run out at the striker's wicket, or arising out of Law 42, but in any case in which an umpire is unable to give a decision, he shall appeal to the other umpire, whose decision shall be final.

48. If either umpire be not satisfied of the absolute fairness of the delivery of any ball, he shall call "No ball."

48A. The umpire shall take especial care to call "No ball" instantly upon delivery; "Wide ball" as soon as it shall have passed the striker.

49. If either batsman run a short run, the umpire shall call "One short," and the run shall not be scored.

50. After the umpire has called "Over" the ball is "dead," but an appeal may be made as to whether either batsman is out; such appeal, however, shall not be made after the delivery of the next ball, nor after any cessation of play.

51. No umpire shall be allowed to bet.

52. No umpire shall be changed during the match, unless with the consent of both sides, except in case of violation of Law 51; then either side may dismiss him.

53. The side which bats first and leads by 150 runs in a three days' match, or 100 runs in a two days' match, shall have the option of requiring the other side to follow their innings.

54. On or after the luncheon interval on the second day of a three days' match, the in-side may declare their innings at an end; in a two days' match, on the second day, at any time.

ONE-DAY MATCHES.

1. The side which bats first and leads by 75 runs shall have the option of requiring the other side to follow their innings.

2. The match, unless played out, shall be decided by the first innings. Prior to the commencement of a match it may be agreed that the over consist of 5 or 6 balls.

3. At any time, the in-side may declare their innings at an end.
N.B.—A tie is included in the words "played out."

SINGLE WICKET.

The laws are, where they apply, the same as above, with the following alterations and additions :—

1. One wicket shall be pitched as in Law 6, with a bowling stump opposite to it, at a distance of twenty-two yards. The bowling crease shall be in a line with the bowling stump, and drawn according to Law 7.

2. When there shall be less than five players on a side, bounds shall be placed twenty-two yards each in a line from the off and leg stump.

3. The ball must be hit before the bounds to entitle the striker to a run, which run cannot be obtained unless he touch the bowling stump or crease in a line with his bat, or some part of his person, or go beyond them, and return to the popping crease

4. When the striker shall hit the ball, one of his feet must be on the ground behind the popping crease, otherwise the umpire shall call "No hit," and no run shall be scored.

5. When there shall be less than five players on a side, neither byes, leg-byes, nor overthrows shall be allowed, nor shall the striker be caught out behind the wicket, nor stumped.

6. The fieldsman must return the ball so that it shall cross the ground between the wicket and the bowling stump, or between the bowling stump and the bounds ; the striker may run till the ball be so returned.

7. After the striker shall have made one run, if he start again he must touch the bowling stump or crease, and turn before the ball cross the ground to entitle him to another.

8. The striker shall be entitled to three runs for lost ball, and the same number for ball wilfully stopped by a fieldsman otherwise than with any part of his person.

9. When there shall be more than four players on a side there shall be no bounds. All hits, byes, leg-byes, and overthrows shall then be allowed.

10. There shall be no restrictions as to the ball being bowled in overs, but no more than one minute shall be allowed between each ball.

INSTRUCTIONS TO UMPIRES.

THESE Instructions, drawn up by the Committee of the M.C.C., are intended as an appendix to the Laws of the Game.

FITNESS OF GROUND.

Law 43.—At the commencement of a match, the umpires may be appealed to by either side as to the fitness of the ground for play.

Should they not agree, play will not commence until they are agreed.

In case of interruption from rain, as soon as the rain has ceased, the umpires shall, immediately, without further instruction, inspect the wicket, unaccompanied by any of the players, and decide upon its fitness. Should it prove unfit, they shall continue to inspect at intervals, until they decide that it is fit for play, when they shall call upon the players to resume the game.

The ground is unfit for play—when water stands on the surface, or when it is so wet, muddy, or slippery as to deprive the bowlers of a reasonable foothold or the fieldsmen of the power of free movement.

The umpires are not to be biassed by the opinions of either side, still less are they to allow themselves to be influenced by the impatience of the spectators for a resumption of the game, and are not to be induced, by the public interest in a particular match, to declare the ground fit for play, unless they would consider that ground fit under any circumstances.

FITNESS OF LIGHT FOR PLAY.

The umpires may decide, on appeal, that there is not sufficient light for play. Should the light improve before the time for drawing stumps, they shall, without waiting for instructions, call upon the players to resume the game.

In the event of the captains agreeing as to the condition of the ground or light, the umpires will, so far, be relieved of their responsibility.

Law 47.—An umpire is only justified in appealing to the other umpire when he is unable to decide, owing to his having been prevented from seeing the occurrence on which the appeal is based. He is not to appeal to the other umpire in cases on which he could give a decision, merely because he is unwilling to give that decision. If he be in any doubt, the principle laid down in Law 43, "That the existing state of things shall continue," shall be followed, and, in consequence, the decision shall be in favour of the batsman.

Law 48.—The special attention of umpires is called to this law, which directs them to call "no ball," unless absolutely satisfied of the fairness of the delivery.

Umpires should not allow themselves to be unduly influenced by appeals from such of the field who were not in a position to form a judgment on the point appealed upon, or by tricks such as throwing up the ball, on appealing for a catch at the wicket, without waiting for the decision. Umpires being the sole judges of fair or unfair play, should remember that such devices are obviously unfair, and are not in accordance with the spirit in which cricket should be played.

DECLARING (see Law 54).

(a) If a side declare its innings during the luncheon interval, it must do so within 15 minutes after the commencement of such interval, otherwise an extra ten minutes will be allowed for rolling.

(b) If a side declare its innings closed in the morning before play commences, it must do so in sufficient time to enable the other side to choose the roller it prefers, otherwise an extra ten minutes will be allowed for rolling.

CODE OF SIGNALLING.

Boundaries shall be signalled by waving the hand from side to side. Byes shall be signalled by raising the open hand above the head. Leg-byes shall be signalled by raising the leg and touching it with the hand.

Wides shall be signalled by extending both arms horizontally.

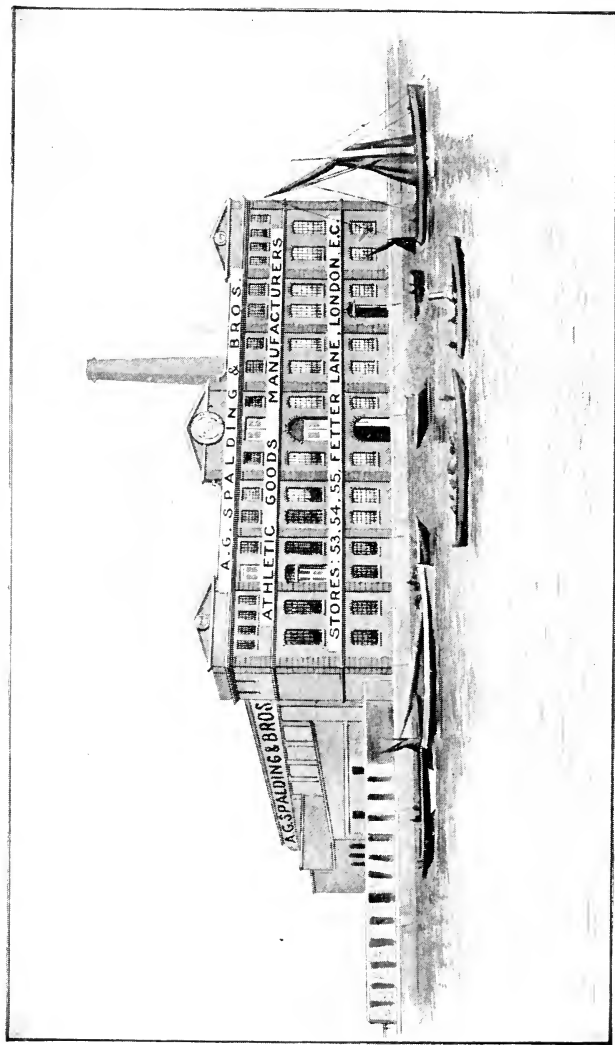

No-balls shall be signalled by extending one arm horizontally.

The decision "out" shall be signalled by raising the index finger above the head.

Umpires should wait until a signal has been answered by the scorer before allowing the game to proceed.

Besides the signalling, the umpire should "call" distinctly for the information of the players.

On giving a decision the umpire should make sure that the batsman understands what the decision is.

What to Use for Cricket

The time was, not very long ago, when golf players ordered their clubs abroad, and considered it was necessary to do so in order to secure clubs that were properly made. That time has gone by now, and Spalding had a great deal to do with its passing. The same thing holds good with cricket equipment, and the players and clubs that in past years had not thought anything of the assortment of cricket goods carried in stock by concerns in the United States now come to the Spalding stores.

T. Hayward, of the Surrey XI., England's premier batsman, has sent the following letter to A. G. Spalding & Bros., commending their facilities for manufacturing high class cricket goods:

September 26, 1906.

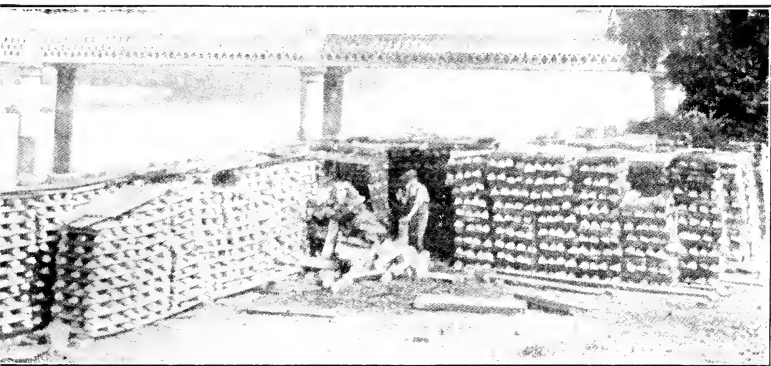

Gentlemen: In reply to your request that I should visit your new Factory at Putney and inspect your willow, and facilities for Bat making, &c., I would say that after doing so I was surprised and delighted to find that you have the finest lot of Clefts I have ever seen, and your Bat-making Department is perfect in every way, and capable of turning out large quantities by the most experienced workmen. I shall be only too pleased to select the "Record" and "Century" Bats, and have my autograph on same as a guarantee that they are picked out by me personally.

As regards Leg Guards, Gloves and other goods connected with the Cricket Department, I am satisfied that all you make are of the latest pattern and best workmanship, and all such goods should have a ready sale.

Yours truly

T. HAYWARD.

To A. G. SPALDING & BROS., 53, 54, 55, Fetter Lane, E. C.

A picturesque corner of the yard in which Clefts for Bat making are stored at the Spalding Factory at Putney Wharf London, S. W., England.

The Spalding Factory at Putney, England, is a most complete establishment. It is located within a few yards of the starting point for the Oxford and Cambridge Boat Race, and in the yard attached to the Factory are stored continually over 20,000 willow clefts ready for immediate use.

To give an idea of the achievement of Tom Hayward in making his second double century, and of the opinion in which this remarkable man is held in England, and, in fact, all over the cricket world, we quote from an article published in the Pull Mall Gazette of June 9, 1906, as follows:

(From the Pall Mall Gazette, June 9, 1906).

REMARKABLE HAYWARD.

The great Surrey batsman has to-day completed the extraordinary and, we believe, unique achievement of completing a second double-century in a single week.

When it is borne in mind that for many years F. r. W. G. Grace stood alone among latter-day batsmen as having (in 1868) scored two centuries in a single match, a feat which the greatest of cricketers did not repeat until 1887, the fact of Hayward in bringing off two such performances in a single week is one on which he may indeed be heartily congratulated.

With what emotions the trundlers of Nottingham and Leicester have seen their bowling thus handled is a subject upon which their opinions would be interesting. No doubt, however, they have taken their gruel, if not with joy, at least with the self-control of sportsmen and in their heart of hearts with generous admiration.

The wonderful form which, in his thirty-sixth year, the Surrey batsman is showing has come at a time when it was badly needed. There has this season been a distinct "stump" in popular enthusiasm for the King of Games; and for converting that into the old healthy interest and enthusiasm there could be nothing better than the displays Hayward is just now giving us. May he go on and prosper!

LEICESTERSHIRE VS. SURREY.

The weather was cooler at Leicester this morning when Surrey resumed their second innings with 226 runs on and four wickets in hand, with six wickets down for 132. Hayward (not out 72) and Lees (not out 7) continued to Jayes and Gill. Both batsmen showed great restraint at first, but afterwards scored freely. Hayward reached his 100 in an hour and a half, making four three-figure innings in succession during the week. Hayward's four innings this week total 512. Leicestershire were set 313 to win. Jayes took four wickets for 67.

Spalding quotes all prices net, and they claim that they will be found much lower than quotations made in the usual way by figuring at fictitiously high prices and then offering a large discount off to counterbalance. The best grade Spalding Cricket Bat, and the one to which Tom Hayward has given his personal attention in selection, is known as the Hayward "Century." A. G. Spalding & Bros. are the sole makers of these bats, and they are as nearly perfect as it is possible to make them. Tom Hayward of the Surrey Eleven, carefully selects and personally examines every bat, and each one is stamped with his signature. Many players like to go over a stock of bats until they find one that just suits them in weight and balance. This can be done at any Spalding store, the large assortment which they carry at all times in stock making it possible for them to suit the individual tastes of every player exactly. An extra charge for this personal selection is made, but this charge is uniform and is regulated fairly. Spalding claims that all of their cricket bats are uniform in finish and quality of material in each grade, and that "personal selection" refers simply to weight and balance, their bats being made in a great variety of weights, in which the balance also varies. The blades of all Spalding bats are made from the best willow procurable, and are well seasoned. They are clear, straight grain, well weighted in the right place, and perfect in shape and balance. The handles are made from the best cane, specially compressed, with three strips of pure Para rubber running through them, which gives the bat excellent swing and great driving power.

The Hayward "Century" men's size bat costs $8 for a personal selection, and for an ordinary selection the price is $7. The same grade of bat, but made in youths' size, costs $4. The next grade in the Spalding line is the Grand Prix, and in men's size a personal selection in this grade bat costs $7, and an ordinary selection costs $6.50. The next grade in the Spalding line is known as the Spalding London Club, a double rubber bat, which in men's size costs $5.50. This is recommended as a standard driver and a thoroughly reliable bat. Spalding furnishes a very satisfactory style of all-cane bat known as their Practice, and in men's size this bat costs $3.50 each. The handles of these bats are made from the best cane, and the blades are recommended for durability. In a youths' size all-cane bat, exceedingly well made and of satisfactory quality, Spalding furnishes a bat for $2.50.

County Match.

There is something about Spalding Cricket Balls that is different from the ordinary ball turned out to players in this country. Spalding Cricket Balls have gained a reputation wherever they have been used, and out of the thousands sold they claim that they have not had one single complaint that can be traced to the quality of material or workmanship in the balls. The Spalding Cricket Balls are all treble-stitched, and they are warranted and guaranteed to retain their color, weight, and shape. At the same time they are soft to the hands, and this is much appreciated by wicket keepers and fieldsmen. The balls are boxed in half-dozens in very attractive style, and each ball is wrapped in an oil-paper bag. The best-grade Spalding Cricket Ball is the Grand Prix, built for first-class cricket, and perfect in quality throughout. It will wear equally well on hard or soft grounds. The price of the No. 1 Grand Prix Ball is \$2 each. The next grade ball, also made in England (and it must be understood that all the Spalding Cricket Balls are made in their English factory), is the Spalding County Match, which Spalding claims is the best ball manufactured at the price. The County Match Ball costs \$1.75 each. The next grade in the Spalding line is known as the Favorite Match, a really excellent ball for ordinary club matches, wearing very hard and retaining its shape to the last. The price of the No. 3 Favorite Match Ball is \$1.50 each. A special youths' match ball is made by Spalding, and has been adopted by the preparatory schools of Great Britain. It is made of the same material and workmanship as in the Spalding Grand Prix, but is smaller and lighter, weighing about $4\frac{1}{2}$ ounces, and measuring in circumference about $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches. The price of the No. 3 Spalding Youths' Match Ball is \$1.50 each.

Spalding makes the greatest variety of batting and wicket-keeping gloves, the styles having been suggested to them by the leading amateur and professional batsmen and wicket-keepers. The material in all is of the best quality, and the shape and fit perfect and comfortable. The wicket-keeping gauntlets, having rubber palms, are guaranteed not to lift, and the cane used in protecting the wrist is specially selected and will not break. The batting gloves are fitted with pure Para rubber and improved tapes. The following are the styles included in the Spalding line of batting gloves:

- No. 1. Buff leather plain rubber. Per pair, $3 00
 No. 3. White buck, corrugated rubber. Per pair, 3 50

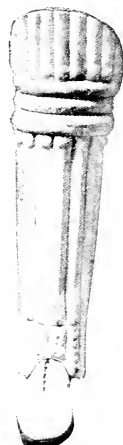

The County Batting Glove made by Spalding has been adopted by the leading batsmen. It is made of white buck with stout rubber cured and taped on. The attachment of two elastic bands instead of one to the back of the glove insures a perfect fit. The price of the "County" Batting Glove is $4 per pair.

Spalding makes three styles of batting slips, and their No. 1 has full fingers made of white buck with plain rubber and silk elastic. Price $3.50 per pair. The No. 2 Style is made with full fingers or brown leather, faced with roughened rubber for grip, and equipped with silk elastic. The price of the No. 2 Slip is $4 per pair. The skeleton slips furnished by Spalding have fingers of white buck, plain rubber and cotton elastic. The price of the No. 0 Skeleton Slips is $2.50 per pair.

No. 9. Grand Prix

The Spalding line of wicket-keeping gloves is a very satisfactory one. Their No. 1 style, made of plain white buck, costs $2.50 per pair. No. 4, of plain white buck, smooth rubber faced, cost $3 per pair. No. 7, of tan cape, smooth rubber faced, costs $3.50 per pair. No. 8, known as the McGregor, made of tan cape, smooth rubber faced, with rubber finger-tips, costs $4 per pair. No. 11, made of tan cape, smooth rubber faced, best double stitch, costs $4 per pair. Spalding furnishes two styles which are known as American styles. The No. A is made of cowhide, best quality, padded palm, open back. This is a satisfactory style of glove, and is exceedingly durable. The price of the No. A glove is $5 per pair. The No. B American style is made of tan cape, best quality, with padded palm and open back. The price of the No. B glove is $4 per pair.

All of the Spalding Leg Guards are made at their factory at Woodstock, Oxfordshire, where they have carefully studied the following points in manufacturing these goods: lightness, strength, perfect shapes, best workmanship, and best-quality material. Truly, in these qualities there is secured about as near the acme of perfection as it is possible to get, and the Spalding line of cricket leg guards really is wonderful in its completeness in the qualities it shows, and in the exceedingly great care that has been taken in turning out these necessary parts of the cricketer's equipment in the most satisfactory style. The best-grade Spalding Leg Guard is known as the Hayward Record No. 1, on account of its having been selected by Tom Hayward as representing his idea of a really satisfactory style of leg guard. It is of a new design, and is made with extra protection for calf and knee. The guard is made of best quality white mock buckskin. The price of the No. 1 Hayward Record Leg Guard is $4.50 per pair. Spalding also furnishes another Hayward guard known as the Century, a very light, handsome guard, strongly recommended for private use, and made of superior quality white buckskin. The price of this Hayward Century No. 3 Leg Guard is also $4.50 per pair. A superior quality leg guard, intended especially for wicket-keepers, is known as the Spalding No. 5. It is made with three rolls at the knee, and is of best quality throughout. The price of the No. 5 Wicket-Keeper's Leg Guard is $4.50 per pair. In skeleton leg guards Spalding furnishes a very satisfactory style in their Grand Prix. This guard is most popular with batsmen, being exceedingly light and comfortable. It is made of superior quality white mock buckskin. The price of the No. 7 Grand Prix Skeleton Leg Guard is $4.50 per pair. In a similar guard, but made of superior quality tan cape leather and also in the skeleton style, Spalding furnishes their No. 9 Leg Guard for $4 per pair; and in what is known as the Oxford Leg Guard Spalding furnishes an elegant pattern, very cool and especially adapted for use in hot climates. The Oxford Leg Guard, made of superior quality white mock buckskin, and known as the Spalding No. 15, costs $4 per pair.

Spalding, naturally, in addition to furnishing everything necessary for the individual player, also supplies the club equipment required. They furnish stumps and balls made from best selected ash in various styles. The No. 0 Youth's Plain Match, 26-inch, with bails, costs $1 per set. No. 3 Match Stumps, with bails, cost $1.25 per set. No. 4, brass ferruled, with flush top, with bails, costs $2 per set. No. 8, revolving brass tops, with bails, costs $3 per set. Any of the above stumps will be shod extra for $1 per set. Extra bails cost 30 cents per set. Back-stop and wing nets are furnished by Spalding in any desired sizes. They carry in stock regularly a very satisfactory style of back-stop net known as their No. 5, made of 12-thread white twine, 50 feet long, 8 feet high. The price of the No. 5 net is $3 each. A better net, but tarred, also 50 feet long and 8 feet high, is known as their No. 5N, and the price is $3.50 each. Back-stop net poles, Spalding No. BS, cost $1 each, and guy ropes and pegs cost 85 cents per set.

It is well to correspond with Spalding when in need of anything in the way of supplies or other equipment for the grounds, as the Spalding stores have the best facilities for obtaining anything special of this kind that may be required and at reasonable prices.

Cricket bags, needed by the player and inconvenient to obtain ordinarily, are furnished by Spalding in the approved styles, imported especially by them. Their No. 5 Bag is made of plain colored tapestry carpet, with leather bottom, and 14-inch straps at ends. This bag has heavy leather handles, brass rings, and handle plate is fitted with side lock; it is lined with flax canvas. The size of the bag is 36 x 12 x 7 inches, and the price of the No. 5 Bag is $7 each. The Spalding No. 1 Bag is made of green-mottled tapestry carpet, with brass nozzle lock. The size of the bag is 36 x 12 x 5 inches, with straps at ends. The price of the No. 1 Bag is $6 each. No. 11 Bag is made of cowhide, drab, strong frame, brass fittings, and top fitted with a register lock and with slides at end. The size of this bag is 36 x 12 x 5, and the price of the No. 11 Bag is $12 each. A very satisfactory style of canvas-lined case for individual bats, with handle for carrying, is furnished by Spalding in their No. 4 Case for $1.25 each.

Cricket spikes are furnished in three different styles by Spalding. Their No. 1 Style has brass plates with steel spikes, and costs per set of 8, 40 cents. Their No. 2 Style is a steel spike to screw in, and the price of the No. 2 Spikes per set of 16 is 40 cents. Spalding also furnishes malleable iron plates with spikes. This style is known as their No. 3, and costs, per set of 8, 15 cents.

Spalding also furnishes a rubber grip for bats. These are used by many players, and the Spalding Grip is made of pure rubber, and is a very satisfactory article indeed. The price of the No. C Grip is 50 cents.

Score books are furnished by Spalding also. The No. A Style for 12 games costs $1.25 each. This is a large-size book. They also furnish their No. B Style, in pocket size, with stiff cloth cover, for 13 matches or 52 innings, for 50 cents each.

An article that is needed on the cricket field, but generally overlooked, is a satisfactory style of mallet. Spalding furnishes a fancy mallet, with imitation boxwood head 8 inches long, known as their No. 1, for \$1 each. Another very necessary article is a satisfactory style of measuring tape. Spalding furnishes a patent steel tape on a reel. It is made in superior style, about $\frac{1}{4}$ inch wide, and the form of the reel allows the entire tape open to dry. It can be reeled and unreeling as easily as tapes in cases. The price of this tape, known as the Spalding No. 1B, 100 feet long, graduated every foot and with each end marked in inches, is \$5 each.

It would be well for cricketers to communicate with Spalding stores when in need of anything in the way of equipment. There are many new things being brought out from time to time from their English establishments which cricketers who desire to be abreast of the times should know, and the best way to keep in touch with these at all times is to keep in communication with the Spalding people through their local stores.

A copy of their catalogue devoted to the principal athletic sports will be mailed free of charge to any address from any Spalding store. A list of the Spalding stores is given below:

What to Wear for Cricket

The cricketer, in common with the athlete in every other branch of sport, requires a comfortable outfit. It is as necessary to good play on his part as it is for him to have a satisfactory bat. Furthermore, cricket, being recognized as pre-eminently the gentleman's game, requires a uniform equipment that is just right for a good appearance is absolutely necessary on the cricket field. Spalding has taken a great deal of pains to turn out satisfactory outing shirts and trousers suitable for the cricketer, and made right in every particular. The Spalding Outing Shirts and Trousers are made from the latest patterns, and a perfect fit is guaranteed. The shirts are made with two different styles of collars. The No. D style is the dress shape—up-right, and the No. E style is the ordinary outing-shirt style—flat. All of the Spalding shirts are made with full sleeves, with double pearl buttons, link style, in cuff, and with button front. The No. 10 Spalding Outing Shirt, made of all-wool flannel in mixed patterns including stripes, plaids, and solid colors, costs $3 each. The No. 12, made of Eden cloth in mixed patterns, including attractive stripes and plaids, costs $2 each; and the No. 18, made of mixed cotton and wool, plain white, costs $3 each. The No. 20 Spalding Shirt is made of white zephyr weave, material very attractive, and costs $1.50 each. In the Spalding Outing Trousers great care has been taken to make them up with the idea of giving a comfortable fit. The trousers are made with one hip, one watch, and two side pockets, and belt loops. The styles furnished by

Plain Trousers

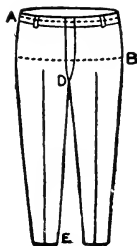

Striped Trousers

Spalding in their trousers are. No. 9, all-wool flannel, medium weight, plain white, price, $7 per pair; No. 11, all-wool flannel, medium weight, mixed colors and stripes $7 per pair; No. 15, all-wool flannel, light weight, mixed colors and stripes, $6 per pair; No. 19, all-wool flannel, medium weight made of material in the same quality and colors as in the best Spalding base ball uniforms, price, $6 per pair. Spalding also furnishes a very satisfactory style of white duck trousers, known as their No. 3. These are well made, and of good quality white duck. The price of the No. 3 White Duck Trousers is $1.50 per pair. Spalding will send on application measurement blanks and samples of material; but if in a hurry when ordering, take your own measurements according to the measurements shown herewith, and Spalding will make up the shirts and trousers so that they will really look well and fit comfortably.

HOW TO MEASURE FOR SHIRT—
State size of collar worn, length of sleeve from shoulder to wrist, with arm raised and bent, as shown (1-3); size around chest (5-5).

HOW TO MEASURE FOR PANTS—
Size around waist (A-A); inseam (D to E); around hips (B-B).

For some time past it has been recognized that there was a great need for some kind of athletic wear that would be suitable at the same time for use as underwear, during the heated term especially, but throughout the year as desired, and Spalding has put out shirts and knee pants in material which it is believed has filled this need. The quality of each article is calculated to satisfy even the most exacting. The No. 15 White Cotton-Mesh Sleeveless Shirts cost $1 each. No. 15P White Cotton-Mesh Knee Pants cost $1.50 per pair. No. 10E Natural Cotton-Mesh Sleeveless Shirts cost $1.50 each, and the No. 10EP Natural Cotton-Mesh Knee Pants cost $1.50 per pair.

The shirts are made in sizes from 26 to 44 inches chest measurement, and the knee pants in sizes from 28 to 42 inches waist measure. Spalding also

Nos. 15 and 10E

Nos. 15P and 10EP

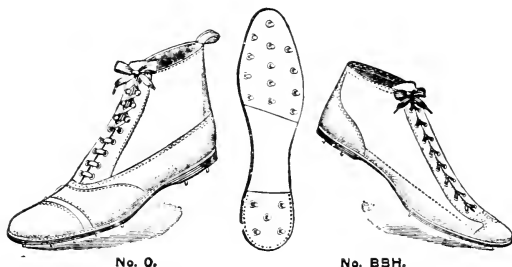

Nos. 210 and 280

makes knee pants of special twilled cotton goods, suitable in quality and at the same time extremely light in weight unequalled for use as underwear or for athletic purposes. The No. 280 White Basket Weave Cotton Knee Pants cost 60 cents per pair, and the No. 210 White Twill Cotton Knee Pants, very light in quality, cost $1 per pair. These knee pants are made in sizes from 28 to 42-inch waist measure.

The cricket player should never forget that in order to play a satisfactory game he requires shoes that are built right. Spalding has made a study for thirty years of athletic requirements, and they include in their line of athletic shoes the most satisfactory styles for every athletic purpose made up anywhere. They furnish two different styles of cricket shoes. Their No. 0 is made high cut, of best white canvas, reinforced soles, and spring heels, and of selected leather, with blunt spikes. These shoes are built specially for cricket playing, and they will give excellent satisfaction. These shoes are hand-sewed throughout. The price of the No. 0 Spalding Cricket Shoe is $5 per pair. For an expert cricket shoe Spalding furnishes their

No. BBH, also made high cut, of black, finest quality kangaroo uppers, with special quality leather soles and spring heels. These shoes are furnished with blunt spikes, and are made on the same last as the Spalding best-grade base ball shoes. This style makes an ideal shoe for cricket. The price of the No. BBH Cricket Shoes is $7.50 per pair. Other styles of shoes, made up without spikes, but the same as furnished for lawn tennis and general outing purposes, are also supplied by Spalding. Their No. AH Shoe is made high cut, of russet leather, with best red rubber flat sole. This shoe is hand-sewed, and is of absolutely best-grade material throughout.

The price of the No. AH Shoe is $5.50 per pair. Their No. CH, high cut, best white canvas, fine quality white rubber, flat sole, hand-sewed throughout, costs $5 per pair; and their No. C, low cut, made of best white canvas, with best quality white rubber flat sole, costs $3.50 per pair. They also furnish their No. D Shoe, low cut, white canvas with red rubber flat sole for $1.50 per pair.

There are a thousand and one other articles suitable for the athlete in general—and needed also by the cricket player from time to time—which are listed in the Spalding Catalogue. A copy of this catalogue should be in the hands of every cricket player, and will be mailed free of charge to any address on request to any Spalding store, a list of which is given below:

The Hayward "Century"

We are the sole makers of these bats, and they are as near perfection as it is possible to make them. Tom Hayward, of the Surrey XI., carefully selects and personally examines every bat, and each one is stamped with his signature.

Many players like to go over a stock of bats until they find one that just suits them in weight and balance. This may be done at any Spalding store, the large assortment which we carry at all times in stock making it possible for us to suit exactly in every case. An extra charge will be made, as noted below, for this special service.

All Spalding cricket bats are uniform in finish and quality of material in each grade. "Personal selection" refers simply to weight and balance, our bats being made in a great variety of weights, in which the balance also varies.

THE BLADES of these bats are made from the best willow procurable and are well seasoned. They are clear, straight grain, well wooded in the right place, and perfect in shape and balance. Spalding Cricket Balls

These cricket balls are manufactured in our factory in England, and in both quality and price will be found eminently satisfactory. We feel certain that their grand record on the other side will be duplicated in this country. Prices are net and will be found much lower than quotations made by others on so-called first grade goods, even when figured with a large discount off. They are all Treble Stitched, and guaranteed to retain their color, weight and shape, and at the same time they are soft to the hands, which is much appreciated by wicket-keepers and fieldsmen.

of 20th September, 1906*

Tom Hayward in a New Role

A rumour is in circulation that that prince among professional batsmen, Tom Hayward, is about to retire from first class cricket. It is almost needless to state that this is not so. What probably gave rise to the rumour is the announcement that Messrs. A. G. Spalding & Bros., 53-55, Fetter Lane, E. C., with much business acumen and enterprise, have engaged the Surrey "idol" as manager of their cricket bat department. Messrs. Spalding will make a special feature of this department, and all the bats in stock will be carefully selected and bear the name of Tom Hayward. Surrey cricketers especially will be pleased to learn that rumour has again proved herself a lying jade, for the "record breaker" of 1906 emphatically states that his engagement with Messrs. Spalding will in no way affect his cricketing career.

We issue a special catalogue devoted to our line of cricket goods, including the celebrated Tom Hayward "Century" Bat and the most complete assortment of general cricket equipment listed by anyone. ✽ A copy of this cricket catalogue will be mailed to anyone on receipt of request. ✽ Correspondence with organized clubs especially solicited.

A black and white photograph of a vintage football, likely from the early 20th century. The ball is dark with white laces and a visible brand logo on the upper left panel. The logo appears to be a circular emblem with text, possibly 'W. L. & Co.' and 'MADE IN U.S.A.'. The football is shown from a slightly low angle, emphasizing its rounded shape and the texture of the leather or material.

All Rubber Bladders bearing our Trade-Mark are made of pure Para rubber and are guaranteed perfect in material and workmanship. We will replace any which prove defective. We except from the provisions of this guarantee, and will not replace bladders which are punctured within two inches of the stem, or any which show from their appearance that they have been subjected to abuse. A puncture within two inches of the stem indicates carelessness in lacing, with the probability that some sharp instrument used to lace the ball, or bag, has punctured the bladder; or else the leather flap inside the opening has not been drawn over smoothly to protect that part of the bladder adjacent to the stem, before the ball or bag was inflated. A puncture or break which occurs on account of either of these causes we do not hold ourselves responsible for, and bladders so punctured will not be replaced.

The Spalding "Highest Quality" Sweaters

We allow four inches for stretch in all our Sweaters, and sizes are marked accordingly. It is suggested, however, that for very heavy men a size about two inches larger than coat measurement be ordered to insure a comfortable fit.

Made of the very finest Australian lambs' wool, and exceedingly soft and pleasant to wear. They are full fashioned to body and arms and without seams of any kind. The various grades in our "Highest Quality" Sweaters are identical in quality and finish, the difference in price being due entirely to variations in weight.

Our No. AA Sweaters are considerably heavier than the heaviest sweater ever knitted and cannot be furnished by any other maker, as we have exclusive control of this special weight.

Spalding Tennis Rackets

THE SPALDING GOLD MEDAL RACKET

THE SPALDING GOLD MEDAL RACKET, accompanied by the broadest guarantee ever given on an article of this kind has really proved the greatest sensation in the tennis line for many years. Our care in designing the racket at first, and then in making certain that every detail of manufacture was absolutely best quality, has brought to us players who were dissatisfied with rackets of unreliable quality, and a number of championships have been won by well-known players using the Gold Medal Racket. We use a dogwood insertion in shoulders after proving to our satisfaction by bitter experience that it is far superior to cane or other material for the purpose.

The difference between styles A and B is in the additional strings reinforcing the central portion of the latter. Handles 5 and 5 1/4 inches in circumference. Stringing of clearest and absolutely best quality lambs' gut. Each racket enclosed in special quality mackintosh cover. Tag attached to each racket giving particulars of special inspection.

GUARANTEE

We have endeavored to make this the finest racket ever placed upon the market, and as such it carries the Spalding Guarantee. If this racket proves defective in workmanship or material during the current year, return with this tag to any of our stores, or to the dealer from whom it was purchased, and the defect will be rectified. Imperfectly strung rackets will be restrung, and in the event of a broken frame, where the fault is ours, the racket will be replaced.

Spalding Tennis Rackets

We Guarantee
Tennis Rackets bearing the Spalding Trade Mark during the playing season in which they are purchased, provided they are 13 ounces or more in weight. Any Racket of 13 ounces or more in weight that gives out from defective material or workmanship during the season purchased will be repaired or replaced without charge, provided it is returned to us prepaid, with the name and address of the sender, together with a letter explaining the claim.

Caution—A Tennis Racket is extremely susceptible to atmospheric changes, and the very finest gut will give out occasionally through no fault of material or workmanship; such cases are not within the scope of a Guarantee. A Racket should always, when not in use, be covered with a Waterproof Cover, placed in a Racket Press, and kept in a cool, dry room. It is a wise precaution to varnish the gut occasionally.

Durand-Steel Lockers

WOODEN LOCKERS are objectionable because they attract vermin, absorb odors, can be easily broken into, and are dangerous on account of fire. Lockers made from wire mesh or expanded metal afford little security, as they can be easily entered with wire cutters. Clothes placed in them become covered with dust and the lockers themselves present a poor appearance, resembling animal cages.

Durand-Steel Lockers are made of high-grade steel plates, and are finished with gloss-black Furnace baked Japan (400°), comparable to that used on hospital ware, which will never flake off nor require refinishing, as do paints and enamels.

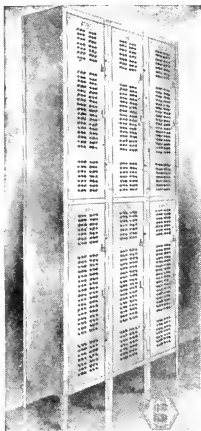

Durand-Steel Lockers are usually built with doors perforated full length in panel design, with sides and backs solid. This prevents clothes in one locker from coming in contact with wet garments in adjoining lockers, while plenty of ventilation is secured by having the door perforated its entire length, but if the purchaser prefers we perforate the backs also.

The cost of Durand-Steel Lockers is no more than that of first-class wooden lockers, and they last as long as the building, are sanitary, secure, and in addition, are fire-proof.

We are handling lockers as a special contract business, and shipment will in every case be made direct from the factory in Chicago. If you will let us know the number of lockers, size, and arrangement, we shall be glad to take up through correspondence the matter of prices.

Who are A. G. Spalding & Bros.?

Albert G. and J. Walter Spalding commenced business March 1st, 1876, at Chicago, under the firm name A. G. Spalding & Bro., with a capital of $800. Two years later their brother-in-law, William T. Brown, came into the business, and the firm name was then changed to A. G. Spalding & Bros.

The business was founded on the Athletic reputation of Mr. A. G. Spalding, who acquired a national prominence in the realm of Sport, as Captain and Pitcher of the Forest City's of Rockford, Ill. (1865-70), the original Boston Base Ball Club (Champions of the United States, 1871-75), and the Chicago Ball Club (1876-77), first Champions of the National League. He was also one of the original organizers, and for many years a director, of the National League of America, the premier Base Ball organization of the world. Mr. Spalding has taken an important part in Base Ball affairs ever since it became the National Game of the United States at the close of the Civil War in 1865. The returning veterans of that War, who had played the game as a camp diversion, disseminated this new American field sport throughout the country, and thus gave it its national character.

Base Ball Goods were the only articles of merchandise carried the first year, the total sales amounting to $11,000. Gradually implements and accessories of Athletic Sports were added, until the firm now manufacture the requisites for all kinds of Athletic Sports. Originally the firm contracted for their supplies from outside manufacturers, but finding it impossible, by this method, to keep the standard of quality up to their high ideals, they gradually commenced the manufacture of their own goods, and by the acquisition from time to time of various established factories located in different parts of the country, are now able to, and do manufacture in their own factories everything bearing the Spalding Trade-Mark, which stands the world over as a guarantee of the highest quality.

There are over three thousand persons employed in various capacities in A. G. Spalding & Bros.' factories and stores located in all the leading cities of the United States, Canada and England. A capital of over $4,000,000 is employed in carrying on this business, and the annual sales exceed the total combined annual sales of all other manufacturers in the world making a similar line of goods.

A. G. Spalding & Bros. have always taken a leading part in the introduction, encouragement and support of all new Sports and Games, and the prominence attained by Athletic Sports in the United States is in a very great measure due to the energy, enterprise and liberality of this progressive concern. They were the pioneers, and in fact the founders, of the Athletic Goods Trade in America, and are now universally recognized as the undisputed Leaders in the Athletic Goods line throughout the world.

The late Marshall Field of Chicago, America's greatest Merchant, speaking of the business of A. G. Spalding & Bros., said: "I am familiar with its early career, growth and development, and when I compare its unpromising outlook and the special field for its operations that existed at its inception in 1876, with its present magnitude, I consider it one of the most remarkable mercantile successes of the world."

The millions of Athletes using them, and the thousands of Dealers selling them, attest to the High Quality of Spalding's Athletic Goods, and they must determine the future history of this concern.

A. G. Spalding & Bros. are the leading manufacturers of Athletic Goods in the world.
